Housing matter at Tribal Council

Housing on the Warm Springs Reservation, as in many areas of Indian Country, is an essential need in short supply. An important first step in addressing the need is engagement of the community in finding a solution.

Marsha Aubein a recent gradu- ate of the University of Colorado where she studied Environmental Design in the Architecture pro- gram. She graduated Magna Cum Laude with Honors. Her thesis paper was Tribal Housing at the Warm Springs Indian Reservation. In a class of 175, her thesis was one of only five successfully de- fended, earning the Magna Cum Laude honor. Next year she be- gins the Penn State University Master's Degree program in Com- munity and Economic Develop- ment.

Working on her thesis, Ms. Aubein spent time with the Warm Springs Housing Authority, study- ing the state of housing on the res- ervation. In a thesis summary she says: “The Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs is at a crucial point in its history, where critical plan- ning must take place to address the tribes' current housing conditions. There is a large shortage of hous- ing on the reservation, with a cur- rent waitlist of over 300 families.”

The demographics of the tribe are adding to the situation: “Of the 3,175 people living on the Columbia River, 40 percent of the popu- lation is 34 years old or younger, and 62 percent of the population is 34 years or younger. This means the tribe can ex- pect an increased demand for housing in the coming years, due to the high percentage of young tribal members who will be coming to the age of needing a home at the same time. The demand will be arguably impossible to meet without a serious commit- ment from the tribe to start ad- dressing housing issues now,” Ms. Ahern discussed this last week with the Tribal Council. Housing for Indians living at the Columbia River was another point of discussion, as BIA deputy regional director Bodie Shaw was also at the Council meeting.

Policy changes after artifacts case

A case involving disturbance of possible tribal archaeological items at an island in the Columbia raised concern with the Confederated Tribes, especially when the tribes learned the U.S. Attorney could not pursue criminal charges in the case. Council Chairman Austin Greene Jr. wrote to the U.S. Attorney's Office for the Oregon District, and to the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. The letter made clear the tribes' concerns, and asked the Attorney's Office to re- consider filing charges.

The Corps of Engineers and U.S. Attorneys met with Tribal Council last week to discuss the issues.

Still, the case was disturbing, and the U.S. Attorney weighed the pos- sibility of bringing federal criminal charges. A review of the evidence, and the guiding case law in the dis- trict, however, precluded pursuing charges. A review of the evidence, and the guiding case law in the dis- trict, however, precluded pursuing charges. The possibility of a civil case by the site is restored. The tribes are planning a cer- mony at the site on November 8.

A General Council meeting is scheduled for this week, November 13 at the Agency Longhouse. The agenda is the proposed 2018 tribal budget. Dinner is at 6 and the meeting at 7.

The Warm Springs land buy-back program is a service offering in the consolidation of fractional properties on the reservation.

The buy-back program is implemented by the Land Buy-back Program and is designed to benefit tribal community and tribal members by returning land to willing sellers at a fair market value.

Consolidated interests are immediately retrained to tribal trust ownership for uses benefiting the reservation community and tribal members. There are many benefits of the program, including:

- Rebuilding fractional lands and saving Burpee Cattle Ranch is a success story.
- Improving tribal-based health outcomes by removing home site locations, improving transportation routes, supporting economic development, easing approval for infrastructures and community projects, and preserving traditional cultural or ceremonial sites.

For more information, you can check us out at the Media Center.

Land buy-back program starts

Tribal members are invited to attend meetings on the reservation and review the Tribal resolutions.

The meetings are scheduled for 8:00 - 9:00 p.m. on Wednesdays, November 15 at the Agency Longhouse.

Government-to-Government summit

The Early Childhood Education Center was closed last week, due to a water shortage related to standing water before one of the ponds. The building admin and the drinking water were served by the city. The building and drinking water showed no contamination, according to the Tribal Council's management report.

During the closings, as a safety measure, the facility was disinfected. This included the walls, floors, toys and furniture.

The G-pool, the kitchen and sound playground will remain closed as work to correct in these areas. The tribe has entered into a food bank contract to provide a daily hot meal to the students. All meals, including breakfast, lunch and a snack, will continue to meet the federal guidelines provided by Head Start.

Tribe Day Care management will be adjusting fees for childcare for families impacted.

The Indian Trust Settlement (OST) Whereabouts Coordinator, is still looking for additional Class Members, and for which Garden District where Class Member list: Call the Claims Administrator, 800-678-6836.

If you need help getting this information, ideas and assistance, call the tribal government relations, resolve any issues, and provide information for the greater good of the tribe.

The deadline may be involuntary and without notice. For her part in the future, Ms. Abrams wants to continue working with the Confederated Tribes on housing development, starting with community engagement. Her report was well received at Tribal Council. A small action plan needs to be developed. The BIA, who has been working with the Corps of Engineers on the Sandia, has been discussed.

Resolution of Tribal Council

Indigenous Peoples Day

Whereas Tribal Council recognizes Indigenous Peoples Day and the importance of cultural recognition.

Whereas Tribal Council recognizes the need to promote and celebrate cultural identity. The active involvement of Native nations is recognized. The federal government recognizes Indigenous people have a special status. The most long-standing issue of Columbia Basin is recognized.

Whereas, the Indian Trust Settlement Deadline. The Indian Trust Settlement reports that there are over 30,000 Cobell settlement Class Members designated as Whereabouts Unknown in the tribal Community Group, the Claims Administrator, is looking for Class Members to contact them.

The deadline for the Class Members or their heirs to provide documentation is Nov. 27, 2017. The Whereabouts Unknown list is available at www.indiantrust.com, by clicking on the map in the top right-hand corner. If your name is on the Whereabouts Unknown list: Call the Claims Administrator, at 1-800-961-6109, as soon as possible, to claim your Cobell settlement funds by updating your contact information. You may also provide information through the www.indiantrust.com website. Most Class Members receive at least $1,500.

If you are heir of a Class Member with an estate on the Whereabouts Unknown list: Call the Claims Administrator, at 1-800-961-6109, as soon as possible. You will need to provide documentation, such as a real estate affidavit, or a probate order, which directs distribution of the estate's settlement funds. NOTE: The deadline for Class Members with federal probate proceedings pending as of Nov. 27, 2017 may be extended until the proceedings are finalized.

On behalf of the Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs, Tribal Council Chairman Austin Greene Jr. addresses the tribal-state annual meeting.

Oregon Gov. Kate Brown has requested that the Oregon Depart- ment of Fish and Wildlife develop a program to re-introduce waterfowl in the state.

The transfer is a key part of the district's plans to build a $100 million water bottling plant in Cascade Locks.

Governor wants to cancel Nestlé water transfer

Oregon Gov. Kate Brown has requested that the Oregon Depart- ment of Fish and Wildlife develop a program to re-introduce waterfowl in the state.

The transfer is a key part of the district's plans to build a $100 million water bottling plant in Cascade Locks.

The city of Cascade Locks has not given up on the idea. City officials say they will continue the eco-nomic boost the bottling plant would bring. So, they've continued to pursue a water rights transfer with the state to help Nestlé gain access to valu-able spring water.

The transfer would allow the city to access up to 225 gallons per minute from Oxbow Springs to sell to Nestlé and replace water that Nestlé sourced from its municipal source.

Now, the governor wants Or- egon to back out of the deal. In a letter to Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife Director Curt Melcher sent last week, Brown said the water quantity prohibits commer-cial water bottling making the ultimate goal of the water exchange uncertain.

She noted that the state has al-ready spent significant resources, including legal costs, on the ex-change, and expects to spend more money and staff re-sources on “expected challenges and court appeals.”

“I find it impossible to stress additional significant costs or an uncertain outcome,” she wrote. “I am asking that you withdraw the ODWF exchange application.”

The governor also wrote that she is directing state resources to ward economic development in Cascade Locks.

Housing: Report at Council

The more important early el-ement in developing new tribal housing is development of community in the planning pro-cess. The active involvement of the community gives the people the choice of having leadership that will serve the community.

As a tribal member, she felt a personal responsibility to make the choice as genuine and realistic as possible, so it can benefit the tribe in future planning of housing projects. It is her belief that the guiding principles are:

- Federal oversight.
- Respect the culture of the tribe.
- Community involvement.
- Understanding policy and re-source.
- Finding Balance.

The timeline for successful planning can be a matter of years, in order to find that plan that everyone agrees would be best. For her part in the future, Ms. Abrams wants to continue work-ing with the Confederated Tribes on housing development, starting with community engagement. Her report was well received at Tribal Council.

Be it resolved by the Twenty-Seventh Tribal Council of the Con-federated Tribes of Warm Springs, pursuant to Article V Section 1(f), (g), (h), (i), and (n), and by the action of Tribes, Tribal Council now proclaims every second Monday in October as Indigenous Peoples' Day; Resolution 12,379.
Appreciated

Thank you for all to the support and love shown through this past few months while my brother struggled through those times until he passed. In July he was admitted to the hospital. From there he went to admissioned living hospitals but still hung in there from those first few months.

Michelle, his spouse, stood by him, as well as her children, nieces and nephews. Anna and Bita took good care of him in those last few days.

My wife was able to go through all of this. I finally wanted to thank her for her love and support.

Our nephew Guy travelled and visited, carrying the ball to offer the songs. Wilson was very well.

Rena and her children, and Shannah and Wyva were taken care of first from there. Dena Marie and her daughter, Delvis and Shirley were there, took good care of us over there. Hungry.

Parents are the late Walter White and the late Ada Bowne Seyler. Siblings are the late Janice Clummet, Carroll Bankston, Nancy Seyler, and Alan Seyler and Dea Seyler.

In-law siblings are the late Terrance Courtney Jr., Patricia Beymer, Bernyce Courtney and Ruth (Pinky) Beetem.

Survivors are her loving husband, Clifford (Pete) Courtney, and children Steven Courtney Sr., Lori Courtney Rose, Donald Courtney, Nancy Courtney and Tina Mallin. Myrna’s greatest career achievement was in helping students to enter the programs of the High Education Department.

Her heart was vast. She was raised in rowing, sampling, crafting and quilting. She loved sewing money to feed and supply them. She rode snowmobiles, motorcycles, ATVs, and enjoyed grilling when she was in the garden. She loved communication with family and friends via emails, cards, telephones and home visits.

Myrna enjoyed fishing, hunting, snowmobiling, riding a dirt bike and touring motorcycles, mainly cooking over a campfire on fishing and hunting trips—baking potatoes underground with wood coals, goose hunting for the joy of cooking. One of her greatest enjoyments was being the Director of Higher Education.

She made many bowls for all her students, using her own funds derived from bake sales and picking up pop cans.

Words for my Mom
Love, sharing fun in games. My Mom was the very caring lady who never said a bad word. I never saw her angry or mad. She had a strong bond with us all. She loved to sew. I remember her at the sewing machine sewing clothes and Christmas gifts for us all. She was a great cook for us all and I couldn’t wait for school to start so I could wear her outfit. She served baby quilts and donated them to the hospital.

I remember going to the 4-H cooking classes. We learned how to cook liver and onions. Someone forgot to tell us how to tell if this dish was (ick!). Mom had a big heart. She was always encouraging young people in the community to continue their education. She was always looking to collect items for college student care packages.

At home she took time to enjoy family time. Like playing games, Pictionary and Rammy 500. Mom and her game partner were entertainers in itself. She taught us how to grow a garden and not to be afraid of anything. Mom made sure I could cook, clean and never be afraid of new things. Her caring and bravery were something I take with me.

Love you Mom, Nieto.

We would like to extend a huge thank you to all involved with the “Jamie ‘Chili Guy’ Tohet Wild Horse Memorial.

Thank you to everyone that sponsored/donated Indian Head Casino, DMJ Automotive, Jamie for Smith, Johnny LeClaire, Cheryl Tom, Jos Calpe, Winona Tohet, Jimmy Tohet Sr., Jason Tohet, Shayla Sweeney and Melanie Frank.

Thank you to Gladys Greyband and Jamie Tohet for all your help with the fundraiser. With that we were able to purchase our contestant numbers, pay the stock coordinators, and pay the help.

Thanks to the help of Aldo Garcia, Boogie and Garrett Grimo for hauling wood. Thanks to Evan Spirts Jr. and Buster Jardins for sorting and loading chutes. And, thank you to Lari M. from Beany, who supplied the sheep and miniature horses for the children.

The rodeo was a rough stock rodeo, which takes which a lot of bravery and confidence to enter.

We had Wild Sharp Racing, Junior Broncs, Ranch Broncs, Junior and Senior Wild Cell Racing, 2 Wild Horse Racing (where the woman had to mug) and Wild Horse Racing along with Junior Barrel Racing, and a Stick and Wild Horse Racing for the tiny riders.

In the end the winner of the “Chili Guy” Tohet Memorial Wild Horse Race was Team Chizzy, winners, taking with them the $1,400 prize.

Jamie was a mugger and loved wild horse racing. This rodeo was in honor of him and his memory. Thanks again to all that contributed to this being a successful event:

A thank-you from Children’s Protective Services

I would like to take this opportunity to say thank you to Indian Head Casino for the donation of candy for Halloween night. It was so great to see all the children’s smiles and costumes. We had a great turn-out of trick-or-treaters, and each one got some delicious candy. In past years our program always ran out of means, but we had plenty this year. Your contribution is highly appreciated.

I look forward to working with Indian Head Casino in the future.

Sincerely,
Reonna Trimble, Children’s Protective Services Center supervisor.

Native Wisdom film screening

Wisdom of the Elders will present a Native Wisdom film screening and community consultation program. The focus of the program, this Wednesday evening, November 8, is climate change. The screening will be from 5:30 to 7 p.m. at the Agency Longhouse. This is a free event, honoring Native American Month. For more information contact Carla Dean Caldera at tribal Natural Resources-Water and Soil., 541-553-2031. Or Miranda Mishan at 503-775-4014. Email: miranda@wisdomoftheelders.org

For full-time Tribal Employees, you are eligible for health coverage and other benefits. Open Enrollment documents must be submitted to the tribe’s Compensation and Benefits Department by December 1.

Anyone who is using Warm Springs Managed Care and has tribal coverage thru Tribal Third Party Administrator system or Healthcomp, has a $2,500 maximum payout for the year from Healthcomp, then Managed Care Program covers after that.

If a patient has a referral from Health and Wellness provider, Healthcomp will pay at 60 percent on each encounter, and Managed Care pays the remaining 40 percent.

If a patient chooses to go out to another provider without going through a Health and Wellness provider, Healthcomp will pay at 60 percent, and patient is responsible for the 40 percent co-pay. If there is ever any question about health coverage, Managed Care and Comp and Benefits are available to assist. You can reach Managed Care at 541-553-2493; Comp and Benefits at 541-553-3328; and the Health and Wellness Center insurance office is at 541-553-1196.
