Best Music Video Rez Life

Scott Kalama had an incredible month. First, he made the trip to North Dakota to support the Standing Rock Sioux. “Something was telling me I had to go,” Scott was saying the other day.

He drove 18 hours to North Dakota, joined by Miss Warm Springs Keeyana Yellowman and CharlieAnn Herkshan. This was an adventure, he says, seeing the many tribal nations together in force.

By chance while there, Scott met some of the people from the Native American Music Awards—not knowing at the time that he would be seeing them again soon.

Scott was back in Warm Springs no more than a few days when he heard he was in the running for a NAMA award in the Best Music Video category. This was for his work on Rez Life, featuring Scott as Blue Flamez, and the Beats Lyrics Leaders.

Rez Life, seen on Youtube, features his song by that title, and video mostly on the Warm Springs Reservation.

So later in September, Scott made the trip to the NAMA ceremony at Seneca Allegany Casino in New York. There he met other Native artists and actors, including some of the people he had seen at the North Dakota protest. And when he came home he was Warm Springs' first Native American Music Award winner.

District meetings on budget

Tribal Council in September worked with management, Finance, the enterprises and departments on the proposed 2017 budget.

The team came up with a balanced proposal that the membership can review in October before the district meetings.

Secretary-Treasurer Glendon Smith was expecting to have the budget message to the members in the mail early this week.

Meanwhile, Tribal Council set the district meetings for later in October. The scheduled dates are:

Monday, October 24 - Seekseequa District meeting on the 2017 tribal budget. Seekseequa Fire Hall, 6 p.m. dinner, 7 p.m. meeting.

Tuesday, October 25 - Agency District meeting on 2017 budget. Agency Longhouse, 6 p.m. dinner, 7 p.m. meeting.

Wednesday, October 26 - Simnasho District meeting on 2017 budget. Simnasho Longhouse, 6 p.m. dinner, 7 p.m. meeting.

Register to vote by Oct. 18

The last day to register to vote in the November 8 General Election is October 18. Ballots will be in the mail for resident voters on October 19, according to the Jefferson County Clerk's Office.

There are currently 985 registered voters in Jefferson County precinct 14, which includes much of the reservation.

If you have moved or changed your mailing address, please update your address with the clerk's office, as ballots cannot be forwarded.

Voters in the county, including precinct 14, will see six proposed measures on the ballot, all of them having to do with marijuana.

Two of the measures ask whether the county shall prohibit medical marijuana processing sites and dispensaries in unincorporated areas of the county. The other four county measures ask whether the county shall prohibit recreational marijuana producers, processors, wholesalers and retailers in unincorporated areas of the county.

None of these measures would directly impact the tribal cannabis project, as county jurisdiction does not extend to the reservation. In fact passage of any of these measures could indirectly benefit the tribal project, as there would be fewer providers in competition.

Tribal members living in Madras will see the county measures on their ballot, and measures proposed by the city of Madras.

Red Hills Dedication

The Confederated Tribes last week joined their partners in dedicating the 279-acre Red Hills Conservation Area. The tribes acquired the property, located in the valley, through the BPA habitat restoration program.

“We started the process in 2012,” said Tribal Council Chairman Austin Greene, master of ceremonies.

The process was complicated, he said, involving the tribes and BPA, state Fish & Wildlife, the former land owners and other partners.

There was even some opposition, which the tribes were able to overcome: “Because we want this property to stay in permanent conservation,” Chairman Greene said.

Tribal Natural Resources will manage the Red Hills property for fish and wildlife. The land is located next to an existing conservation area, 1,350 acres in size. The habitat is savannah oak, increasingly rare in the valley.

During the dedication, Tribal Councilman Jody Calica recalled conversations with former tribal leaders like atwai Chief Wallulatum and Eugene ‘Cougar’ Greene. They would talk about the tribes’ usual and accustomed places, the Indian names and current names, and how the areas were used.

Red Hills joins the other tribal conservation areas, he said, as a legacy to the leaders who worked to protect the tribes’ natural resources.

Joining Tribal Council and Natural Resources at the dedication were the Fish & Wildlife Committee; Lorri Bodi from BPA environment, fish and wildlife; Curt Melcher, director of Oregon Fish & Wildlife; Stan Speaks and Body Shaw from the BIA regional office, and many other guests.

Branch of Natural Resources general manager Bobby Brunoe speaks at the dedication about the tribal usual and accustomed places, and the cooperative effort that led to the Confederated Tribes' Red Hills Conservation Area.

Plan developing for Old Commissary building

The Warm Springs Community Action Team has been working with the membership and tribal Planning on ideas for use of the old commissary building.

The building is a historic structure, currently located behind the post office. The Community Action Team heard ideas from members at a recent open house, and during other community events.

Based on the input, the idea is to have retail space in the downstairs of the building, and business office space above.

Ideas range from a coffee shop, a barber shop, flower shop, artisan areas, among other ideas, said Chris Watson, Community Action Team director. “We’ve had 60 or 70 ideas,” he said.

To help fund the project, Mr. Watson is pursuing a grant through the Administration for Native Americans. “And I’ve spoken with private funding sources and foundations,” he said. Another promising point: A well-known architecture firm, and a landscape architect, have agreed to donate their services pro bono, Mr. Watson said.

Dave McMechan/Spilyay

The old commissary would be renovated and possibly relocated.

A successful grant to the ANA, he said, would fund the renovation work, plus staff for Warm Springs business support and development.

“The idea is to provide the space for businesses,” he said, “and to provide them with resources to help them succeed.”

Another issue is location of the old commissary: Because of parking, and to make the building better for visitors from the highway, the structure may have to be moved.

The ANA funding piece will be key to the overall project: In a best case scenario, of the grant comes through, the work could begin in October.

The first year and a half would involve the renovation work. Then the building could be occupied, overseen by a program manager, with help from a small business coach, and IDA manager.

The Community Action Team has been interested in developing a retail-business office building for some time now. An initial idea was to use the old elementary school, while the focus now is on the old commissary.

The team is scheduled to meet with Tribal Council this month on the idea.

UAS Update

Fiber optic approaching Kah-Nee-Ta

The tribes’ unmanned aerial systems program is a fast developing enterprise. Other tribes—the Puyallup, Tulalip, Couer d’Alene and Grand Ronde, for instance—have been in contact with Aurolyn Stwyer, business and marketing manager at Warm Springs Ventures. Other tribes have a growing interest in the industry, and in the Warm Springs’ program in particular, Ms. Stwyer said. The Puyallup have already drafted a tribal policy to guide their use of unmanned systems. As an FAA-approved UAS test range, the Warm Springs Reservation is also drawing interest from leaders in the industry. Key partnerships could lead to the development of a drone manufacturing plant at the industrial park, where Construction is preparing for a new building. A key component of the tribes’ UAS program will be the Innovation Center, under construction at Kah-Nee-Ta Resort. The UAS Innovation Center will include a 36-seat conference and training room, instruction and simulation rooms, and offices. This project is funded through state business grant from the Infrastructure Funding Authority. The Innovation Center will require high-speed Internet; so part of the project is the installation of fiber optic cable from the Telecom building at the industrial park to Kah-Nee-Ta. Warm Springs Construction is a few weeks away from finishing the cable project. Kah-Nee-Ta will see the benefit from the Innovation Center itself, plus from the fiber optic line that will bring high-speed Internet to the entire resort.

Warm Springs Construction team installs the line that will bring the fiber optic cable to Kah-Nee-Ta.

Member art show

The Museum at Warm Springs is gearing up for the Twenty-Third Annual Member Art Exhibit. The deadline to submit artwork for the 2016-17 show is 5 p.m. this Friday, Sept. 30. Stop by the museum for the guidelines, contract and application form. Or call 541-553-3331. The show opening will be on October 20, and the exhibit will be on display through the first part of next year.

Veterans summit coming to W.S.

The 2016 Veterans Summit is coming to Warm Springs in November. There will be resource teams available to assist veterans and family members with paper work, questions and information. The summit is planned for November 4 all day at the community center. Veterans should plan to bring documents such your DD-214, service medical records and personal medical records. If you have questions contact Mitchell DeVaney at Warm Springs IHS, 541-553-1196.

The Warm Springs VFW is looking for students to apply for its Voice of Democracy competition. It is open to students in grades 9-12 who are enrolled in high school. First place is a $30,000 scholarship and an all-expense paid trip to Washington, D.C. See page 4 for details.

Tribal Council okays health survey

Health surveys are a critical part in planning for community health services.

Community Health Education Team member Judy Charley gives this example:

A Warm Springs health survey in the late 1980s found that the leading cause of death among the membership was chronic illness, such as heart disease, cancer, or stroke.

A survey ten years later found the leading causes of death were behavioral or social, involving alcohol and drug addiction.

Health providers used this information to give more emphasis in these growing areas of concern. The information can help in determining focus areas of health care funding.

Another example: An earlier health survey found a high incidence of domestic violence in the community. This information led to the establishment of the Warm Springs Victims of Crime Services.

A community health team met last week with Tribal Council, requesting approval to go ahead with a new community health survey. This will be the first one in over a decade; so accurate results will be especially helpful in health service planning.

Tribal Council approved the request, and the team is now gearing up for the survey, said Shana Radford, tribal health liaison, Health and Human Services Branch.

Preparation will involve training for the survey takers, and possibly the hiring of limited duration workers to help with the survey, Ms. Radford said.

The survey may happen during the early part of next year, she said, and will likely be conducted door-to-door.

The tribes are working with the Northwest Area Indian Health Board on this project. The health board will provide support and training.

With Judy Charley and Shana Radford, making the presentation to Tribal Council last week were Misty Kopplin, director of Family Preservation; Anita Davis, Community Health Education Team member; and Katie Russell, Community Health director.

Employee Benefits Fair, Annual Open Enrollment

The Employee Benefits Fair is coming up on Thursday, Oct. 6, from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at the community center.

The event offers the opportunity for all permanent full-time employees to learn more about benefit options, meet vendors face to face, and listen to benefits presentations.

This is also the start of the open enrollment period, meaning that all permanent full-time employees who qualify for benefits effective January 1, 2017, can sign up for coverage if they missed their opportunity during the new hire season.

If you already have coverage, this is also your opportunity to make any changes or renew your flexible spending pledge for 2017.

All changes and new enrollments will be effective January 1, 2017. Some other features of the Benefits Fair:

Meet the new prescription benefits manager.

Pick up your new 2017 HealthComp insurance card.

Ask providers questions about your employee benefits, and enroll in 2017 benefits.

Presentations will be made at 9:30 and 11 a.m., and at 1:30 and 3 p.m.

Contact the Compensation and Benefits department with any questions about the fair at 541-553-3391.

Passion Award, new spokesperson at VOCS

Victims of Crime Services has two employees with great accomplishments.

Candace Lillie was awarded the PASSION Award, presented by the Oregon Coalition Against Domestic and Sexual Violence.

The Coalition conference this year was held in Sunriver in June. Each candidate for the Passion Award was nominated by his or her respective program supervisor.

The Coalition then reviewed the nominees, selecting six recipients for the award.

Passion means Perseverance Advocacy Sensitivity Strength Integrity

ing the self-determination of survivors, and providing leadership for advocacy efforts.

New spokesperson

Meanwhile, Michele Gonzales has transitioned from Victims of Crime Services volunteer to a Victims of Crime Services spokesperson.

She passed her VOCS Bar Exam in July, and was sworn in by acting Chief Judge Lola Sohapp on July 29.

VOCS is proud of these two young ladies for their accomplishments. “We congratulate you both,” said Dorothy Kalama, VOCS advocate supervisor.

Awareness in October

Warm Springs will commemorate Domestic Violence Awareness Month with special events in October.

We're planning activities to engage the community, raise awareness, recognize the prevalence of domestic violence, and prevent abuse.

The mission at Victims of Crime Services is to promote healthy, safe homes and relationships. And toward this goal we have these activities in mind for October:

- Darkness to Light training will be on October 3. Anyone wanting to participate contact Victims of Crime Services at 541-553-2293
- Strong Girls: An activity for girls ages 12-18 years of age who are survivors of sexual assault. Please contact Vera Thomas at 541-553-2293 for further information on this activity
- Purple Thursday is on October 20. Wear purple all day to show your support in bringing forth domestic violence awareness
- Wear a purple ribbon, and look for our silent witness 'Red People' in the community. These will be displayed in various places throughout the community, sharing information about people crimes
- The Clothesline Project was created to bring awareness of violence against women. For women who have been affected by violence, this is a means of expressing their emotions by decorating a t-shirt. After the shirts have been decorated, they are hung on a clothesline display.

The intention of the display is to honor survivors and act as a memorial for victims. It is also intended to aid in the healing process for those who were directly affected, and those who have lost someone special to violence.

Lastly, the clothesline display is to educate society and promote awareness, as well as to document violent crimes against women

- The Human Ribbon will be out in the community with one of VOCS advocates throughout the month of October. Stop and ask an advocate any question you may have about our Victims of Crime Services program
- The Women's Support Group will be held every Monday afternoon from 3-5 at the VOCS office.

For additional information about Domestic Violence Awareness Month, please contact Victims of Crime Services at 541-553-2293, or visit us at 1108 Wasco Street.

We are available 24 hours a day: 8 a.m.–5 p.m. at VOCS office 541-553-2293. From 5 p.m.–8 a.m. via Warm Springs Police Dispatch, 541-553-1171. Ask for an on-call advocate.

Join us in creating a world in which safe and loving homes are the norm!

Dorothy Kalama,
Warm Springs Victims of Crime Services.

No schemes

Dreams and schemes, are we destined for a dilemma every two or three years? This Rez cannot afford to take another hit and get the worst of it, snow job, whatever, like the Gorge casino while waiting for approval to start. It was ended before it ever really got started. The money that belonged to the tribal members appeared as if it was up for grabs by insiders. All of that revenue, unknown millions of dollars, property of the tribal members had all vanished. No indictments, no one accountable. I've never heard of an investigation. Someone should be in federal prison. Nine-eleven and the Twin Towers and the Gorge swindle should never be forgotten.

Recently, the collapse of the sawmill and the mill liquidation: The tribes paid unknown many millions of dollars for the top of the line assets which will likely be sold for pennies on the dollar. It seemed like a done deal, we were outmaneuvered and undermined for too many years with virtually zero profits. Once again, is anybody accountable, liable? Is it recurring at this rate in a couple of years from now? It is inevitable we may be at risk to lose another enterprise, assets or revenue. This vanquishment etc. is going in the wrong direction. We need to close all loop holes. The leadership of the landlord tribal members is the Tribal Council. The “subordinates” are the CEO, GM, consultants and tribal attorneys, committees, board members etc. Whose watch is it and who has been on watch the last few years?

We need to end exploitation and replicate the successful companies and other tribes, whatever it takes. On the outside these successful corporations require the CEO and GMs to make revenue for the owners or hit the road. Many tribal members are coming away empty. That's the way I see it. We need to step it up. No more smoke screens, playing games or trickery. Hopefully we're not an easy mark and can end any future schemes. Awe-na.

Pet clinics

The next Bend Spay and Neuter pet clinic will be in Warm Springs on Tuesday, October 5.

These free clinics are held at the Warm Springs Housing-Community Building, 2776 Quail Trail-Greeley Heights.

The first Bend Spay and Neuter clinic in Warm Springs, held in September, was very popular with dog owners: The mobile veterinary clinic was at capacity, and some owners who showed up later in the morning had to be turned away.

Check-ins will start at 7:30. Appointments are first-come first-serve, with up to 30 appointments available.

Your dog's free appointment will include:

- Spay and neuter surgery, pain injection, anesthesia, monitoring post surgery, pre-surgical exam, and rabies vaccination if needed.

The clinic will continue at least through this year on the first Tuesday of each month. These are free to people who live on the reservation, thanks to the Daisy Fund.

A few of the benefits to having your pet spayed or neutered:

- Prevention of accidental litters of puppies. Your dog will be healthier, and this will help him or her to live longer.

The procedure will make your dog easier to train, and help avoid unwanted behaviors; and your dog will stop running away from home. For more information visit the website: bendsnip.org. Or call 541-617-1010.

More for pets

There is a Pet Clinic on October 1st from 2-4 p.m. in the old ambulance bay across from the post office in Warm Springs. You can purchase shots and licenses for your pets, and get spay/neuter vouchers. They can accept cash only.

Food drive

The Warm Springs Health and Wellness Center Employee Appreciation Committee is hosting a community food drive. The food drive will last through December 21.

Please bring in non-perishable food items such as canned foods, dried food, etc., to the clinic.

Items will be picked up by Pastor Rick Ribiero from the Presbyterian Church. If you have questions call Sam Heath, committee chair, or Marella Sam, vice chair. You can reach them at 541-553-1196.

Good News Club

Warm Springs Academy students are invited to attend the Good News Club, beginning on October 5. The club will be held every Wednesday during the school year.

Kindergarten thru third grade attend from 1:40-2:40 p.m. Fourth thru eighth grades go from 2:40 to 3:40.

Registration forms are available at the school office, Warm Springs Market and Warm Springs Library. For more information contact Gladys Grant at 541-325-2650.

To writers

The Spanish word mustengo means “ownerless beast” and aptly describes the free-roaming and iconic mustangs of the American West. Unharnessed and running wild, mustangs represent strength, freedom and endurance.

These attributes will serve as inspiration for writers to let their prose and poetry loose during a three-day Nature Writing Intensive workshop with local author and poet Ellen Waterston.

Writing Wild Horses is a collaboration between Waterston's Writing Ranch and the High Desert Museum, will be held October 17-19 at the museum.

To register and pre-pay for the workshop, visit: highdesertmuseum.org

Or call Ann Arbow at 541-382-4754 ext. 241.

Happening at W.S. OSU Ext.

Fall—It is my favorite time of year, and not just because my birthday happens to occur then.

The cool, crisp days, the sky so blue it is nearly surreal, and the garden coming to fruition all signify welcome change after the long days of summer.

But most important to some of us in Extension: It is the beginning of a new 4-H Year!

Warm Springs 4-H

What is 4-H? 4-H is a youth development program which helps participants grow in mastery, belonging, responsibility and generosity through a variety of project areas.

While livestock and agriculture may come immediately to mind, there are a multitude of project areas a young person can delve into, including outdoor recreation, home arts and cooking, art and “maker” activities, STEM—Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math—gardening and horticulture, shooting sports, leadership, horses...

A person is only limited by imagination and finding a volunteer adult leader!

The cornerstone

Caring adults from the community who choose to commit to the development of youth are the cornerstone of a thriving 4-H program.

My job as the 4-H coordinator is to help volunteer leaders with resources, training and support, so that they can lead the 4-H members.

At the moment, I am involved in most of the clubs our program supports, but for more opportunities to be available to the youth of Warm Springs, other adults will need to step up to the plate.

If this is you, and this is your year, please stop by the OSU Extension office in the Education building to begin the process.

New year at 4-H

October 1 is the beginning of a new 4-H year.

If a youth was in 4-H this last year, they must submit another registration form for the 2016-2017 4-H season.

Youth who have turned 9 by September 1 of a given year may sign up for regular 4-H clubs.

Cloverbuds is a pre-4-H program for youth 5-8 years of age, and allows them to learn about the various arms of 4-H before committing to more significant project.

Again, for Cloverbuds to happen here in Warm Springs, we need adult volunteer leaders!

The Rez Riders Horse Club will be hosting an informational meeting on October 6 at 5:30 p.m. to discuss plans for the year and take registrations. There will be chili.

The Archery Club will have a sign-up and shoot event at the outdoor range (at the Warm Springs Elementary track) on October 11 at 4:30 p.m.

Remember, you must have a registration formed signed by a parent in order to do anything involving bows and arrows.

(More on W.S. 4-H on 5)

From W.S. VFW

The VFW is looking for students to apply for its Voice of Democracy competition.

The competition is open to students in grades 9-12 who are enrolled in high school.

First place is a $30,000 scholarship and an all-expense paid trip to Washington, D.C.

The Warm Springs VFW would like to encourage Warm Springs students to enter essays.

The theme is ‘My Responsibility to America.’ To learn more, visit VFW.org. The deadline for entries is November 1.

At Recreation

The Warm Springs Recreation Department Halloween activities this year will have a Star Wars theme.

Celebrate local Archaeology

Smith Rock State Park is hosting its Fourteenth Annual Oregon Archaeology Celebration lecture series.

The series begins Saturday, October 1, from noon to 3 p.m.

Patrick O'Grady, an Archaeologist for the University of Oregon Museum of Natural and Cultural History, will display and discuss the Traveling Museum of Oregon Prehistory.

It is at the Smith Rock State Park Welcome Center in Terrebonne. It is free and open to the public. Day-use parking fees apply.

Warm Springs Community Counseling hosted the Recovery Powwow in September by the Counseling building. The event was part of Counseling's celebration of September as National Recovery Month. The Recovery Never Ends conference is coming up this Friday, September 30 at the HeHe Longhouse. Everyone is welcome to attend. The conference will be from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the longhouse (see page 8 for more on the conference).

Special guest at Veterans Powwow

The Confederated Tribes and the Veterans Powwow Committee are planning a Veterans Powwow in November.

This year a special guest will be Linda Woods. Ms. Woods is a tribal member of the Grand Traverse Band of Ottawa Chippewa Indians. She comes from the Ottawa Indian village in Leelanau, Michigan.

She served in the U.S. Air Force during the Vietnam Era. Following her military experience, Ms. Woods became a substance abuse counselor, earning a Masters of Social Work in 1994 from San Jose University in California.

Even before earning her Masters, Ms. Woods was committed to helping Native Americans deal with addiction, promoting recovery and healthy lifestyles in Native communities.

She partnered with the Inter-Tribal Council of Michigan to help produce Access to Recovery Anishnaabek Healing Circle—Understanding Our Journey. This program promotes education and understanding of Native American culture in Michigan.

She served as a cultural consultant for the Inter-Tribal Council of Michigan for many years. She was honored in 2015 when she was inducted into the Michigan Women's Hall of Fame.

Though she retired in 2008, with over 30 years of experience in social work, Ms. Woods continues to serve the Native American community. Most notably, Ms. Woods is the first female veteran in the U.S. to carry an Eagle Staff.

She carries the staff on behalf of all women, especially her fellow women veterans who have served the nation. She has been mentored by and guided by a prominent veteran.

She is the mother of two sons, proud grandmother of five, and has two great-grandchildren.

VFW Auxiliary

Essay contests, meeting coming up

Greetings to all.

For over 100 years, the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary has been fulfilling its original objectives by supporting the Veterans of Foreign Wars, serving veterans, active duty military and their families, and spreading patriotism nationwide. Our members have volunteered millions of hours, donated millions of dollars and honored hundreds of thousands of veterans over the years.

Join us at our local VFW Auxiliary Elliot Palmer Post 4217. We meet the first Tuesday of every month at 5:30 p.m. at the social hall of the Community Wellness Center, 2200 Hollywood Blvd.

Our dues are $25 a year and your payment for membership covers donations to the Veterans Hospital, National Home for Veterans and their families, district dues, Voice of Democracy scholarship, and Patriots Pen scholarships.

It's that time of year for members to pay their dues. Our next meeting will be on Tuesday, October 4. You can pay at the next meeting. If dues are not received by December, your membership will be cancelled.

Youth essay contests

The Voice of Democracy program was established in 1947 to provide students in grades 9-12 the opportunity to express themselves in regards to democratic ideas and principles. The national first-place winner received $30,000.

The scholarship is paid directly to the recipients' American university, college or vocational or technical school. This year's theme is My Responsibility to America.

This is an audio essay. You can go online, Voice of Democracy, and follow the directions to enter the contest. Your local post will judge one winner per 15 entries, and the winner advances to the district. The district winner advances to the state; and the state winners are invited to Washington, D.C., where their audio essays compete in the finals competition.

The Patriots Pen is for grades 6-8. This essay contest encourages young minds to examine America's history, along with their own experiences in modern American society.

Essays are 300-400 words, expressing views based on the patriotic theme chosen by the VFW Commander in Chief. The theme for 2016-17 is The America I Believe In.

Entries can be submitted to the Warm Springs Elliott Palmer Post 4217.

October events with W.S. 4-H Extension

National Youth Science Day will happen at the Academy on Friday, Oct. 14, from 10 a.m. til 12 noon.

This year's lessons will focus on drones, or UAVs, and remote sensing. This will be open to all Warm Springs youth in grades 4-8, whether involved in 4-H or not.

And new this year: STEM Beyond School. For this program, 4-H will be partnering with the Boys & Girls Club to bring STEM activities and programming throughout the school year and through next summer and the solar eclipse.

STEM Beyond School will focus on fourth- through eighth-grade youth, and is not limited to Boys & Girls Club membership.

Please call the OSU Extension Office in Warm Springs for information and to sign up for these and other activities and clubs at 541-553-3238.

Family and Community Health

New this fall to Warm Springs OSU Extension programming is the mindful eating, active living workshop series called Am I Hungry?

This healthy living series focuses on all the factors that go into the decisions we make around our food intake, with a recognition that in many cases, "it's not about the food."

Eating well to fuel your active life is the goal, and if some weight loss happens along the way—it will, more than likely—that is just icing on the cake!

The series will begin October 10 at 5:30 p.m. Each of the eight weekly workshops will include healthy snacks. Cost for the entire 8-week series is $10, and includes all materials.

This series is a $400 value, and will be led by Beth Ann Beamer, RN, BSN, licensed Am I Hungry facilitator and Extension FCH faculty. Space is limited, so please call 541-553-3535 to pre-register.

Master food preservers

Our master food preservers Sara Rogers and Rosanna Sanders will present a workshop on Pressure Canning Salmon on October 11 from 9 a.m. until 12 noon.

Come learn best-practices for pressure canning salmon safely in a fun and supportive environment! Class is free, but space is limited. Please call 541-553-3238 to pre-register.

SNAP Education

SNAP Education provides high-quality nutrition education to communities in schools, clinics, organizations and businesses.

Our SNAP educators have programming starting at ECE, the Warm Springs k-8 Academy, Boys & Girls Club, Commodities, High Lookie Lodge and at various other community locations.

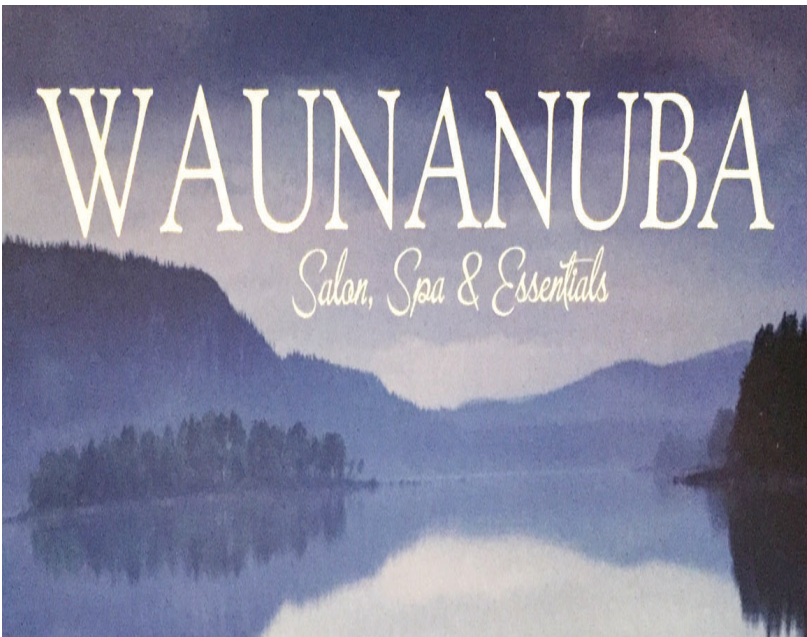

Look for OSU staff at the k-8 Academy every Wednesday promoting healthy lunch choices through the Food Hero of the Month program, and promoting healthy snacks and physical activity at Walk It Out Wednesday at the Boys & Girls Club.

Agriculture, livestock, horticulture

Scott Duggan will be attending a number of Ag meetings this month, including the Federally-Recognized Tribal Extension Program meeting in Flagstaff.

He will host a final Garden Lunch and Learn on October 18 with Karen McCarthy from the Madras Garden Depot as special guest speaker, on Bulbs and Bulbs, Fall Planting Flowers and Garlic, from noon until 1 p.m. A healthy lunch will be provided, and the class is free to the community.

Election: measures on cannabis; register to vote online

One of the city measures asks whether to prohibit recreational marijuana sales, wholesale production, processing and distribution within the city jurisdiction.

Another city measure asks whether a 3-percent city tax should apply to recreational marijuana sales.

These measures could bring about an interesting result.

For instance: the county voters could prohibit recreational marijuana sales in unincorporated areas of the county. And city of Madras residents could do the same within the city limits.

That would leave the incorporated areas of Metolius or Culver as the places in Jefferson County where recreational marijuana could be sold retail.

How to register

Registering to vote is simple and convenient in Oregon.

Online: If you have an Oregon driver license or other DMV identification, you can update your registration at OregonVotes.gov/myvote

Registration card: You can fill out a paper registration card. You can find these at most post offices, libraries, and your county elections office. Or, download a PDF version to print and mail to your county elections office. If that's not convenient, call your county elections office and request one.

You do not have to vote for anyone that is listed on the ballot.

There will be space to write in the name of the candidate you wish to vote for if they are not listed on your ballot.

You may also choose not to vote in some races and leave those races blank.

Council approves 2016 reservation hunting regs

As recommended by the Branch of Natural Resources and tribal Fish and Wildlife, Tribal Council last week approved the 2016 on-reservation hunting regulations. Here are the regulation provisions:

Due to fire activity during 2016 fire season, the Rattle Snake Fire areas of Webster flats and the Hot Springs Fire areas Kah-Nee-Ta hot springs and Warm Springs Fish Hatchery areas affected by wildfires will be closed to hunting. See Natural Resources for a map showing the closed areas.

If found hunting in closed areas, tribal members will be in violation of Tribal hunting and trapping code 350.210 subsection 18.

Deer season

October 1–October 23.

Legal weapons: Centerfire rifles, .22 Caliber or larger, Rimfire rifles prohibited. Archery, 40-pound or greater draw recurve, long or compound bow. Muzzleloader, .40 caliber or larger, open or peep sights and open ignition. Shotgun, #1 buck or larger and slugs only. Tribal Code Ch. 350.210 subsection 2.

Bag Limit: One buck deer having not less than a forked antler, per family.

Designated hunting: A hunter may not possess a designated hunter tag until he/she fills his/her deer tag. A designated hunting tag will not be issued until the designated hunter returns their 2015 and 2016 season family tag hunt results to Natural Resources.

Only one designated hunting tag will be allowed per hunter. Designated hunting tags will be issued for elders and disabled persons. Follow up with elders or disabled will be conducted to confirm they received their meat. That individual must acquire the tag either in person or provide a written request for the tag to be issued to the designated hunter.

Other recommendations: Mandatory reporting is required for all tribal hunters. Failure to report results may lead to loss of hunting privileges for the next hunting seasons. Your participation is greatly appreciated.

Elk season

November 1– November 20.

Legal weapons: Centerfire rifle, .24 caliber or larger. Archery, 50-pound or greater draw recurve, long or compound bow. Muzzleloader, .50 caliber or larger, open or peep sights and open ignition. Shotgun, slugs only. Tribal Code Ch. 350.210 subsection 2

Bag limit: One antlered elk per family.

Designated hunting: A hunter may not possess a designated hunter tag until he/she fills his/her antlered elk tag. A designated hunting tag will not be issued until the designated hunter returns their 2015 and 2016 season family tag hunt results to Natural Resources.

Only one designated hunting tag will be allowed per hunter. Designated hunting tags will be issued for elders and disabled persons. Follow up with elders/disabled will be conducted to confirm they received their meat. That individual must acquire the tag either in person or provide a written request for the tag to be issued to the designated hunter.

Other recommendations: Mandatory reporting of hunter harvest. Failure to report may result in loss of hunting privileges for the next hunting season. No reservation elk tag given to members if deer results not returned! Your participation is greatly appreciated.

Bear season

Fall: October 1 – November 20. Spring: April 1, 2017–May 31, 2017.

Legal weapons: Centerfire rifles, .22 Caliber or larger. Rimfire rifles prohibited.

Archery, 40-pound or greater draw recurve, long or compound bow. Muzzleloader, .40 caliber or larger, open or peep sights, and open ignition. Shotgun, #1 buck or larger and slugs only. Tribal Code Ch. 350.210 subsection 2

Bag limit: One bear per month per family, except cubs and sows with cubs are protected.

Cougar season

Open season year around: January 1–December 31, 2016-2017.

Legal weapons: Rifle, muzzleloader and archery. Hunting cougars with dogs is permitted for tribal members only (Exception: For the assistance of Natural Resource staff dealing with problem lions or conducting research).

Bag limit: One cougar per month per family. It is unlawful to take spotted kittens or female cougars with spotted kittens.

Other recommendations: Cougars may be taken year round and hunted with dogs for human health and safety concerns, depredating livestock, pets or damage complaints. Any tribal member taking a cougar under such circumstances must notify the Natural Resources Department and provide the carcass for inspection and biological sampling within 48 hours of taking the animal.

Bighorn sheep season

October 15 – November 13.

Legal weapons: Centerfire rifle, .24 caliber or larger. Archery, 50-pound or greater draw recurve, long or compound bow. Muzzleloader, .50 caliber or larger, open or peep sights and open ignition. Shotgun, slugs only. Tribal Code Ch. 350.210 subsection 2

Bag limit: One bighorn sheep ram. One tag will be issued to one tribal member through lottery draw.

Any prior successfully drawn bighorn sheep recipients from previous hunts are not eligible to apply for this hunt. The successful hunter must attend an orientation at the Wildlife BNR office before the hunt and present any harvested sheep within 72 hours for genetic sampling, pinning, aging and inspection.

Other recommendations: Mandatory reporting of hunter harvest. Failure to report results in loss of hunting privileges for the next hunting season.

Basketball at Youth Center

There is a basketball camp going on at the Youth Center for youth ages 6-17. All skill levels are welcome.

The camp is on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 5:30-7 p.m. at the youth center, and will run through late October.

Some of the highlights:

Children will participate in 1.5 hours of basketball skill building, and work towards participating in team organized sports.

Youth will focus on skill development in the areas of agility, vertical leap, footwork training, and constant enforcement of the fundamentals of basketball.

Every participant will walk away from the clinic not only filled with enhanced techniques, drills and knowledge, but will also leave with a newfound passion for the game of basketball.

For more information contact Daryle at 541-777-2770.

Recreation hosting fall run

The Warm Springs Recreation Department will host the Kah-Nee-Ta Fall Run on Saturday, October 15. There will be a 10k and a 2-mile run/walk, beginning at 9 a.m.

You can sign up now at the Community Center. Or call 541-553-3243.

Good funding news for Heart of Oregon YouthBuild

The Heart of Oregon Corps education program received good news recently:

Heart of Oregon heard from the Department of Labor that the YouthBuild program has received funding to continue through 2019.

Heart of Oregon YouthBuild is a program in partnership with the Jefferson County and other school districts, helping students ages 16-24.

The program helps the students to earn diplomas or GEDs, and in finding jobs and careers, or in going on to college. The youth who participate are also compensated as they earn the school credits and gain job skills.

Several young people from Warm Springs are involved in Heart of Oregon YouthBuild. One of the students, Rodger Jack of Simnasho, won the 2016 YouthBuild Americorps Outstanding Member Spirit of Service Award.

YouthBuild focuses on building houses for Habitat for Humanity. A goal of the program is to expand the work on the reservation.

YouthBuild crew cleans up Elmer Quinn Park earlier this month.

A recent event was the YouthBuild clean-up at Elmer Quinn Park. Education liaison Butch David also works with a Heart of Oregon Corps summer youth crew.

Laura Handy, Heart of Oregon executive director, and Kara

Johnson, YouthBuild director, announced last week that the Department of Labor had awarded the program funding for the rest of this year through 2019. In that time, the program will serve 73 youth ages 16-24 from communities in Warm Springs, Madras, Prineville, Redmond and Sisters.

The Central Oregon Heart of Oregon Corps was one of 77 YouthBuild programs funded this budget cycle. The grant is for $1.1 million.

This is for two years of active funding and one year of support; or about one-third of the overall YouthBuild funding.

This is Heart of Oregon Corps' fourth Department of Labor YouthBuild grant since 2009.

The grant award period begins October 17. At that time the new Heart of Oregon Corps group of young people will start their Mental Toughness orientation.

The YouthBuild and other Heart of Oregon programs are 12-month programs. But the support, including help in finding employment, goes beyond.

You can learn more about YouthBuild and other Heart of Oregon Corps programs at the website: heartoforegon.org. Or call 51-526-1380.

Resolutions of Tribal Council

Off rez hunting

Whereas the Tribal Council has reviewed the attached limits, seasons and other regulations as recommended by the Branch of Natural Resources and the Fish and Wildlife Committee, and

Whereas Tribal Council Adopted Resolution 12,216, on August 30, 2016 The 2016 Off-Reservation Hunting Regulations, and

Therefore be it resolved, those hunting regulations are hereby amended as following:

Sections: Deer, Antelope, Bear and Cougar Seasons,

Subsections: Legal weapons, of Resolution 12,216 will be changed to: Legal Weapons: Centerfire Rifle (.22 caliber or larger)

This amendment and change to the 2016 off-reservation subsistence hunting season will take effect immediately with the current off-reservation subsistence seasons. This legal weapon hunting standard is changed to reflect what is authorized within the state of Oregon and commonly used calibers used by hunters for game species deer, antelope, bear and cougar.

Be it further resolved by the Twenty-seventh (27th) Tribal Council of the Confederated Tribes of the Warm Springs Reservation of Oregon pursuant to article V, section 1 (i) and (l) of the Tribal Constitution and the Hunting and Trapping Code Chapter 350.210, that the “2016 CTWS Ceded Lands Hunting Regulations” are amended as recommendation from the Natural Resources Branch and the Fish and Wildlife Committee. Resolution no. 12,222.

On rez hunting

Whereas the Tribal Hunting and Trapping Code Chapter 350 requires the Tribal Council to review the status of wildlife populations annually and set seasons and bag limits; and

Whereas the Tribal Council has reviewed the attached limits, seasons and other regulations as recommended by the Natural Resources Branch and the Fish and Wildlife

Committee; now, therefore

Be it resolved by the Twenty-Seventh Tribal Council of the Confederated Tribes of the Warm Springs Reservation of Oregon pursuant to article V, section 1 (i) and (1) of the Tribal Constitution and the Hunting and Trapping Code 350.210, that the “2016 Reservation Hunting Season Regulations” are adopted as provided in the attached recommendation from the Natural Resources Branch and the Fish and Wildlife Committee. Resolution no. 12,223.

Spiritual Marathon Friday at Deer Ridge

The Deer Ridge Correctional Institution will host its first ever 500 Mile American Indian Spiritual Marathon. Owen Wallulatum is helping organize the event. He volunteers spiritual services such as sweat lodges at Deer Ridge a few times each month.

The spiritual marathon is planned for this Friday, September 30, from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Deer Ridge.

The tradition of the 500 Mile

American Indian Spiritual Run began in the 1980s in California. The tradition has since spread to many other prisons, including several in Oregon.

On September 30 the day will start with a pipe ceremony and drumming and singing, followed by the marathon at the running track at Deer Ridge.

Owen estimates there are about 45 Native Americans at Deer Ridge, including about eight from Warm Springs. He has participated in the Spiritual Marathons at other prisons, and is looking forward to starting the tradition at Deer Ridge.

New law to promote tourism in Indian Country

President Barack Obama last week signed a bill promote Native tourism into law.

The Native American Tourism and Improving Visitor Experience Act (NATIVE Act - S1579), does something rather simple, but supporters say it will help draw more people, and their dollars, to Native communities.

It requires federal agencies to update their existing management plans and tourism strategies to include tribes, Alaska Natives and Native Hawaiians.

“This bill will empower Native communities to tell their own stories and build their own economic opportunities,” said Sen. Brian Schatz (D-Hawaii), a member of the Senate Committee on Indian Affairs and the sponsor of the NATIVE Act.

“For too long, tourism has focused on so-called major destinations and while that’s important, we have the opportunity to support cultural revitalization and economic renewal through the passage of this bill,” Schatz said.

“Visitors are increasingly seeking out a more authentic and historically rich travel experience, and there is nothing more authentic and unique than the cultural tourism experience our native communities provide.

The Senate passed the bill on July 13. It cleared the House on September 12.

The bill does not require federal agencies with tourism programs to spend additional funds.

Bill to protect cultural property moves forward

Efforts to protect tribal cultural property are moving forward on Capitol Hill. The House considered H.Con.Res.122, the PROTECT Patrimony Resolution, last week.

According to the House Majority Leader’s schedule, the measure was considered under a suspension of the rules, a process reserved for non-controversial bills that are expected to pass with near-unanimous support.

“This is really a very large effort ... to simply say we can do better in the world and do better in this country,” Rep. Steve Pearce (R-New Mexico), the sponsor of H.Con.Res.122, said in May.

The Protection of the Right of Tribes to Stop the Export of Cultural and Traditional Patrimony Resolution condemns the sale, transfer and export of tribal property.

It calls on the federal government to work with tribes and spiritual leaders to come up with ways to stop the practice and repatriate items back to their rightful owners.

A companion measure, S.Con.Res.49, is also moving forward in the Senate. It was approved by the Senate Committee on Indian Affairs on September 7.

“These items are not pieces of art—they are sacred objects, deeply important for tribal identity and we need to put a stop to the trafficking of these objects,” Sen. Tom Udall (D-New Mexico), the sponsor of S.Con.Res.49, said at the business meeting.

The legislative efforts are being discussed this week at the Indigenous International Repatriation Conference, hosted by the Association on American Indian Affairs.

Grand Ronde yet to add chief descendants to roll

The Confederated Tribes of Grand Ronde in Oregon are moving slowly when it comes to putting the descendants of a chief back on the rolls.

The 86 descendants of Chief Tumulth won a major tribal court ruling more than a month ago. But the tribe has yet to restore them to membership and they’ve already missed an election as a result, The Salem Statesman Journal reports.

“We are descendants of Chief Tumulth and he signed the Willamette Valley Treaty of 1855. That’s the original Grand Ronde document,” descendant Debi Anderson told the tribal council at a recent meeting, the paper said.

Chief Tumulth signed the 1855

Willamette Valley Treaty that set aside a reservation for the Cascade, Kalupuya, Shasta and other tribes. But he was executed by the U.S. government before he had a chance to move to the reservation or join a base roll that is used to determine Grand Ronde citizenship today.

Pitt an honored alumni

Tribal artist Lillian Pitt is among the Madras High School graduates who will be honored at the Inaugural Distinguished Alumni event during Homecoming Week.

The event is set for Friday, October 7 at the high school. “These are former Madras High School students who have made tremendous contributions to our city, state, country or world,” said high school vice principal HD Weddel.

“We are proud to be welcoming them home and honoring them for their great accomplishments.”

There is a full day of activities planned on October 7 at the high school, with the Distinguished Alumni as the guests of honor.

With Lillian Pitt, the Distinguished Alumni are Jacob Deshazer, Dr. Porfirio Pena, Rick All, and Dr. William Ramsey.

Recovery conference at HeHe

The Recovery Never Ends conference is coming up this Friday, September 30 at the HeHe Longhouse.

Everyone is welcome to attend. The conference will be from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the longhouse.

The day will include speakers, talking circles, healing activities, sweathouse and meals.

For more information or to register contact Sarah Frank at Community Counseling, 541-553-3205. See page 8 for more on the conference.

5 year anniversary at COCC Madras

Central Oregon Community College this week is celebrating the Fifth Anniversary of the Madras Campus.

The celebration will be from 5 to 7 p.m. this Wednesday, September 28. Guest presentations will begin at 5:30 p.m. There will be refreshments and information booths. There will also be a bouncy house where children can play.

The event is free and open to the public. For information, call 541-383-7700. In advance of college events, persons needing accommodation or transportation because of a physical or mobility disability, contact Joe Viola: 541-383-7775. For accommodation because of other disability such as hearing impairment, contact Anne Jenkins: 541-383-7743.

In October at Indian Head Casino

Indian Head Casino will host the Pinktober Cancer Awareness Walk on Friday, October 14, from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. There will be guest speakers at noon, and a balloon ceremony, plus door prizes. Health screenings will be available for guests, and light snacks are provided.

On Mondays in October in Indian Head, wear pink and receive $5/$10 bonus play—inquire at the Players Club window. Or call Janell Smith, Peggy Faria or Nicole Garcia-Smith at 541-460-7777.

Pinkified Thursdays at the casino feature blackjack and slot tourneys. Entry fee includes a surprise—and cash payouts for first through third place. Proceeds go towards the fight cancer cause.

For Halloween

The casino on Saturday, October 29, will host a costume contest with a first-place prize of $200. Second gets $100; third, $50; and fourth, $25.

There will be a DJ and music until midnight. There is no cover charge; must be 21 or over.

Salem protest over water bottling plan

Tribal members and others were at the State Capitol last week to protest the attempt to bring a Nestlé water bottling plant to Hood River County.

The matter is still pending at the state level.

Voters in Hood River County, meanwhile, voted in favor of a ballot measure rejecting the Nestlé plan.

In the town of Cascade Locks, however, the majority of voters were against the ballot measure. The water bottling plant would be in Cascade Locks, where the tribes once planned to build a casino.

Under the water bottling plan, the Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife would swap with the city of Cascade Locks a portion of water that comes from Oxbow Spring.

The springs supplies an ODFW fish hatchery and goes into a creek that feeds into the Columbia River.

The city would then sell that spring water to Nestlé.

The application for the water exchange is pending before the Oregon Water Resources Department.
