Walls going up at Plateau Travel Plaza

Workers have installed the underground fuel tanks at the Plateau Travel Plaza. The walls are going up for the main building, and the steel frames are in place for the canopies over the gas and diesel pumps.

The project is a little over three months into construction, and the work is on schedule, said Travis Wells, tribal engineer.

With the framing in place, the various components of the operation are coming into view:

There is the main entrance way leading to the convenience store.

The restaurant with seating for 70 is to the back right. From the restaurant window there is a great view of Mount Jefferson.

The main building is 13,500 square feet. There will be showers and laundry facilities, and a Class II gaming room.

The large parking area on the 10-

acre site will accommodate up to 70 semi trucks.

The construction contractor and sub-contractors have worked with the Warm Springs TERO, and there are seven tribal members—some from Warm Springs, and some from other tribes—working at the site. All of them were registered with the TERO, Mr. Wells said.

The substantial completion date for the Travel Plaza is March 2018. This will be the only travel center of its kind in the region, the next closest being at Biggs and LaPine.

The project means new jobs for members, and welcome new revenue for the tribes.

KNT weighs future options

When it first opened in the 1970s, Kah-Nee-Ta was the premier resort in the region.

“The playing field has changed significantly since then,” said Jim Manion, Kah-Nee-Ta board member. “Now we have to find our niche—to make this a unique experience—and become competitive again.”

Part of the solution may involve the landscape around the resort. As an example: Mountain biking is a popular sport, and a fast-growing one.

The tribes could form a partnership with an outside group, and market Kah-Nee-Ta to mountain bikers.

The board has been talking with a group about this idea, and is now seeking input from the membership.

Using the unique surrounding, and having a minimum impact on the landscape, are aspects that make this a promising idea, Mr. Manion said.

Kah-Nee-Ta is popular in the late spring, summer and early fall. A goal of the board and management is to bring people in during the slower months. “We have to broaden the use to make the resort competitive,” he said.

Kah-Nee-Ta last year had to borrow from the tribes in order to maintain operation. This is not a sustainable option. Bringing in a partner to help upgrade the facilities is another approach the board is taking. A partner could invest in the kinds of improvements that for now are not affordable.

Meanwhile, the resort has taken cost-cutting measures, but this can only go so far. At some point there is an impact to the quality of service. “And once you impact service you impact the guests’ experience,” Mr. Manion said.

Membership meeting coming up on CP Enterprise financing

The tribes’ carbon sequestration project, through Ventures and GeoVisions, is moving into a final phase. The concluding process involves detailed third-party verification, registration, and then sale of the credits.

The carbon credits will be sold to a company operating in California, where clean air law requires compliance, or the purchase of credits.

An area of the tribes’ forest, non-commercial timber land, will be managed in a way that meets the California carbon sequestration code. Revenue to the tribe is significant: a net over a number of years of up to $10 million, said Don Sampson, Ventures chief executive officer.

This project ties into another Ventures project, the cannabis project, or CP Enterprise. The membership approved this enterprise a year and a half ago.

At the outset some time was needed to clarify various legal aspects, as this will be a unique project among tribes in Oregon.

Ventures and tribes worked with the state legislature and governor to create a compact. This allows the sale of reservation-grown cannabis off the reservation.

Most recently Ventures was able to secure a 100-percent refund on the Oregon cannabis tax, which normally is 17 percent. “We want to thank Senator Ted Ferrioli for his work on behalf of the tribes,” Mr. Sampson said.

This year the obstacle to getting CP Enterprise in operation has been funding. Ventures looked at partnering with an outside group in order to build the facility and begin operation. But the terms have been unfavorable to the tribes.

Self-funding would be the much more profitable approach, Mr. Sampson said. “The idea is to invest and create the economic engine now,” he said.

Through self-funding, the tribes would pay no interest to any outside source; and the tribes would have 100-percent ownership. This approach accomplishes the mandate of the December 2015 referendum, Mr. Sampson said.

To reach the goal, a part of the carbon sequestration revenue would be invested in CP Enterprise, an economic development project. This would be paid back once the enterprise begins to generate revenue.

Ventures is planning a meeting with the membership to discuss the idea, as the process involves a supplemental budget. “I appreciate the community’s patience with this project,” Mr. Sampson said. “We now have a potential for huge revenue to the tribes. We would be in the ideal situation through self-funding. Let’s get it built and keep the money at home.”

Summer powwow at Simnasho

After living in such di-

Mr. Graham grew up in Warm Springs, going to school here and at Madras junior high and high school. He then went to Oregon State University, and the Tulane University School of Public Health and Tropical Medicine.

Living and working in many regions, he always thought one day of returning to Warm Springs. And this week he is moving into his new office at the clinic.

Wednesday evening starts with a potluck barbecue at 6, social dancing and singing at 7.

Youth teams and University of Washington staff will be camping on the football field at the Academy.

9:45: Last balloon launch.
10:10: Final discussion of safe viewing of eclipse.
10:20 a.m.: Total eclipse.

The situation forced the temporary closure of highways 26 and 3.

The Mecca fire burned on a hillside near a residence.

Meanwhile, the Warm Springs Hotshots were dispatched to Prescott Valley, Ariz., where the Goodwin fire was burning.

This fire forced home evacuations, and consumed some buildings. The Arizona governor declared a state of emergency. The Goodwin fire had burned more than 21,000 acres, and nearly 800 personnel were on the scene.

From the Branch of Natural Resources: The Warm Springs Reservation is now in declared fire season. All regulations governing any timber industry or other outside activities will be enforced. As fire risk rises, more strict regulations will be implemented.

During the declared season the restrictions will follow the regulations covered by the National Fire Danger Rating System, Industrial Fire Precaution Levels, and Warm Springs mobilization and dispatch plan. For details on restrictions call Natural Resources, 541-553-2001.

Letters to the editor

Pi-Ume-Sha Stickgame

This is a big thank you to all who helped with the Pi-Ume-Sha Stickgame Tournament, especially the participants that came near and far, the Warm Springs Tribes, Indian Head Casino, Warm Springs Market, and all that bought raffle tickets.

This was our first year in a long time to run the tournament. Our family raised money and ran it many years ago when my parents were here, and it felt rewarding to take a more active role again. My hope is that the young ones will start to take a more active role this coming year as we start to do our fundraising. The results of the raffle are as follows (all the raffle money went to fifth-place):

$30 donated by Alice Sampson, won by Martha Winishut. $25 donated by A.S. won by Reuben Henry. Purse with keychain donated by A.S. won by Mona Starr. $50 gas card donated by Christopher Crane won by “Fudge” Fidelia Minnick. $25 gas card donated by C.C. won by Sybil Smartlowit. Tool set donated by Vanessa Crane won by Reuben Henry. Sleeping bag donated by V.C. and won by Paula Saunders. Tent donated by V.C. and won by Kim Starr. Two scarves donated by V.C. won by Janell Jim.

Boy’s vest donated by Violet Heath and won by Paula Saunders. Necklace with earrings donated by V.H. and won by Alice Sampson. Two beaded barrettes donated by Lena Looney won by Moss Smartlowit and the other by Gene Sampson.

Beaded barrette donated by Aldene Pevo won by Travis Andy. Beaded medalion donated by A.P. and won by Paula Saunders. Beaded pill bottle donated by A.P. won by Reuben.

The tournament results: First place, Kim Starr of Warm Springs. Second place, Ashley Leslie of Yakama. Third, Charles Selam Jr. of Yakama/Warm Springs. Fourth (coach) David Yelloweyes, Montana Native, lives in Spokane. Fifth, Sybil Smartlowit of Yakama/Warm Springs.

Again, a thank you to everyone that helped with the raffle, feeding the people (food preparation and cleanup), Vanessa, Christopher, Cecilia and Marissa Andy, Melissa Knight, Katie Wallulatum, Gene and Alice, Violetta Vaeth, Travis Andy, Katie Mae Frazier-Smith, Joe, Wamblee Wallulatum, Sterling Sampson, Romona Starr, Sam Starr, and Moss and Sybil for the apples, cherries and asparagus. I hoep I did not forget anyone! Paliyawasa Tananma (Stickgame people).

Thank you all

This letter is to thank all the individuals who were advisors, beaders, the bell ringer, canners, dancers, donors, drummers, fence builders, helpers on the wash, instructors of moccasins, Pendleton vests, ribbon shirts, head cook/kitchen helpers, seamstresses that donated their time and offered to step in and help out, the one giving the Indian names, anything that required work and effort; our family appreciates you and your hard work.

(I decided not to single individuals out by name but place each and every one of you on the same level, first.)

This was an opportunity that required planning, preparing foods and prayer. We are honored and thankful for each and every one of you for your time and love. This truly is one of the many learning lessons, the amount of involvement, concern and back door workers to make sure we had everything, and everything was done, finalized, what a touching day we will remember forever!

Thank you so much, The Yallups/Leccys and extended families.

Employee Wellness

The 2017 Employee Wellness program will have a class on Monday, July 10, covering the topic ‘Injury, Prevention and Fitness.’ The presenters are Natalie Kiefer, Diabetes Prevention, and Jennifer Russell, personal trainer.

Health of it

St. Charles Health Systems invites the Warm Springs community to a ‘For the Health of It’ event this Thursday, July 6. This will be at the Warm Springs Youth Center from 3-4:30.

The focus is on healthy eating, featuring dieticians from IHS and OSU Extension Service.

The event is open to kids, families and adults looking for fun and active ways to stay healthy this summer.

You will earn a raffle entry for attending, with a chance to win prizes at a celebration event in October.

HeHe gathering

The Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs Men’s Wellness Gathering invites the community to the HeHe Campground, July 19-20.

We are excited to invite you to this free men’s wellness conference. Join us as we retreat into the quiet locale of the HeHe Butte Longhouse.

There will be participation in group discussion, and ancient ceremony done in times of great change.

The gathering will allow time for the exploration of nature, sweat lodge, meditation, music and games. The accommodations are your tent or trailer (no RV hook-

Tribes’ appreciation

Stan Speaks and Mrs. Speaks have been to the Pi-Ume-Sha Honor Dinner for the past 30 years.

This year at the event Tribal Council Chairman Austin Greene Jr. and others paid special tribute to Mr. Speaks and his wife.

Mr. Speaks is the Director of the BIA Northwest Region. He likely will be leaving the position soon for a different region. So the recent Honor Dinner may have been the last with Mr. and Mrs. Speaks in attendance.

Mr. Speaks is originally from Oklahoma, a member of the Chickasaw Nation. He has been with the Northwest Regional office for 32 years now.

That may sound like a long time, “but when you’re busy it moves along pretty fast,” he says. “And there’s nothing like working with tribes.”

Stan Speaks at the recent Pi-Ume-Sha Honor Dinner.

In the Northwest Region there are 45 federally recognized tribes. Mr. Speaks has been a good friend to them, including the Confederated Tribes.

“I’ve always had respect for Warm Springs,” he said.

“I think you have good leadership and a good Council. I’ve tried to give assistance when I could, and contribute something to the tribes. I hope I’ve helped make some improvements.”

ups available). Meals will be provided by the Health and Human Services Branch. Please bring additional snacks as needed.

The conference brings together Warm Springs tribal members, members of other Native American communities, and any other men who wish to partake in this gathering. The facilitators are Don Courtney, Dan Martinez, Mykee Martinez, Andy Leonard, Scott Kalama, Leighton Pennington, Dr. John Spence (Gros Ventre/Sioux), Jarvis Kennedy and Demus Martinez.

Please email Michael Martinez for registration details: michael.martinez@wstribes.org Or call 541-553-3205.

For veterans

The Museum at Warm Springs is participating in the Blue Star Museum Program.

The Blue Star program offers free admission to the Nation’s Active duty military personnel and their families through Labor Day.

The Museum at Warm Springs is one of many museums to offer free admission to military personnel and their families this summer in collaboration with the National Endowment for the Arts, Blue Star Families and the Department of Defense.

KWSO DVD

KWSO was fortunate to be granted $1,200 from the Warm Springs Washanaksha Cultural Trust Board in 2017 to create content for and manufacture 1000 DVDs to be distributed in the community.

Throughout the summer at community events, DVDs will be handed out. You can also just stop by the Warm Springs Media Center and pick a DVD up.

The DVD includes 20 videos. The first two are based on radio programming around:

The Warm Springs Child

Health Task Force “5-2-1-0” message of healthy habits for kids; and the “We R Native” program which is housed at the Northwest Portland Area Indian Health Board.

There are KWSO language lessons turned to video: a Kiksht fishing lesson, an Ichishkiin huckleberries lesson; and a Numu roots lesson. There is a short documentary on root digging as well.

Jefferson Greene let us use his Ichishkiin videos he developed while working at the Culture and Heritage Language Program this past year.

There are 11 of Mr. Greene’s lessons included on the DVD, plus a music video produced by Brutis “Bigg B” Baez, based on the Sam Cooke song Change is Gonna Come, but in the Ichishkiin language.

Several years ago Native singer and artist Arigon Starr visited KWSO and recorded a song called Celilo Falls, which is featured in a music video with historical photos.

The last video on the DVD is a spoken word piece called Indian Love about domestic violence and the need to recognize and talk about mental health issues.

Artwork for the DVD includes images that were a part of KWSO’s 2016 Wash-anaksha grant award.

Goals of the Warm Springs Washanaksha Cultural Plan include projects that:

Promote tribal members’ understanding of and involvement in cultural activities, traditions, arts, language, dance, history, music, etc.

Pass on tribal knowledge and practices to our youth and help them feel connected to their culture.

Preserve, practice and teach our tribal languages: Ichishkiin, Numu and Kiksht.

Support the work of our artists and traditional teachers, including their ability to earn a living from their work.

The Washanaksha board typically announces that grant applications are available in the late fall each year.

Requests are considered from Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs tribal members, residents of the Warm Springs Reservation, Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs programs and committees, and Warm Springs community organizations.

Grant funding is sponsored by the Oregon Cultural Trust, which provides funding to Oregon county groups and tribes to support the arts and heritage.

Sue Matters, KWSO station manager.

Cats & Dogs were the consolation champions in their bracket at the Spokane Hoopfest in June. The team members are Jaurissa Bellanger, Haydyn Cross Dog, Selim Neel and Freddie Ortiz. Three of the teammates—Jaurissa, Haydyn and Freddie—are students at the Warm Springs Academy.

Cats & Dogs would like to thank Indian Head Casino for their generous support of the team. Spokane Hoopfest is the largest 3-on-3 tournament in the world, with over 14,000 games played in the streets of over 40 city blocks in downtown Spokane. This year NBA Finals MVP Kevin Durant even made an appearance.

Dear Warm Springs,

I would like to recognize the athletes of Jefferson County Special Olympics Oregon.

We had several tribal members who are athletes on our team.

Jefferson County Special Olympics attended the June 2017 regional softball competition in Medford. This was the first time in a long time that Jefferson County has participated in a spring/summer sports competition.

The county offers fall bowling and winter basketball sports competition, but the coaches and athletes of Jefferson County wanted to have something to carry us throughout the year.

This year the team had a wonderful season that ended in Medford with the Jefferson County Rangers placing first and bringing home the Gold medals.

A special thank you to the Indian Head Casino, Portland General Electric, Back Street Construction and several local community members for their generous donations that helped our county provide this sporting event.

We would also like to thank the Identity Zone for designing our uniforms.

If you have an individual, 8 years old and up, who would like to participate in Jefferson County Special Olympics, please contact Ellen Courtney at 541-325-1179.

Respectfully, Johnathan Courtney, Special Olympics head coach, Jefferson County.

Boomer Classic helps the museum

The Museum at Warm Springs will host the annual Boomer Classic golf tournament at Kah-Nee-Ta this Saturday, July 8.

The event is in memory of Jim 'Boomer' Noteboom, former attorney for the tribes. The tournament

From Warm Springs Nation Boxing

Pi-Ume-Sha Treaty Days Boxing: What a fight!

Which one? They were all good, close, hard fought matches in their first rounds, but many went the distance.

Our curtain raiser came right after the introductions: Thank you for standing up for us and singing the USA National Anthem. Destiny Wewa has a beautiful voice.

I also want to thank the ringside officials for their perfect work: Time keeper Alvis W. Smith III, the bell ringer Aaron Winishut; and the three judges Bobby Eagleheart, Bob Rabbi and Bill Cochran. And thank you Deanie Johnson for the PA system.

Can't ring the bell without the first responders present: Thank you Fire and Safety for making sure.

The curtain raiser was a draw: No one won the match between two 48-pound boxers, the 5- and 6-year-olds. So they both got their arms raised to victory.

Thank you Tim Wainanwit and David Combs for being in there as the third man.

For the 2017 Treaty Days Boxing t-shirt artwork, donated by Foster Kalama: Thank you Foster for such a great creation. Also, I know the fans will remember the music that came from your flute, the people love you.

Warm Springs Power and Water Enterprises and the Family Resource Center: We thank you again for the financial donations.

Until 2018 we pray to our Creator through our Washut as we are heard in hope, faith and love. We are blessed to be human.

New route to Upper Warm Springs River

As our service is to protect and enhance cultural and natural resources for tribal member subsistence and enjoyment, the Branch of Natural Resources will begin re-routing access to the Upper Warm Springs River area by eliminating portions of the W-240 and the W-245 roads that are directly next to the river.

Traffic will be rerouted around the project area using the following directions:

Travel north on the W-200 road for 4.2 miles.

Turn west and travel on the W-260/S-649 road for 4.2 miles.

Turning back east on the W-240/S-650 roads for 4 miles.

Alternatively, access is also maintained through the B-180 road those approaching from the south.

The new reroute will be marked with detour signage.

This will be a permanent reroute of traffic, as these portions of the W-240 and W-245 roads will be permanently closed.

Why is this being done? This project will protect and enhance some of the most productive habitat for multiple traditional and endangered species.

The BIA placed these roads through vital wildlife migration corridors and often the roads are inches from critical salmon-bearing streams.

By permanently removing the road from this sensitive riparian area, we are helping to ensure the longevity of vital species to the Warm Springs community.

Moreover, many of the water crossings of the existing road have blocked fish passage for over 60 years.

This project will open several miles of high-quality fish habitat.

Transportation effects: Although immediate river access will be eliminated, the reroute will ensure access to the upper Warm Springs River with an added travel time of approximately 15 minutes.

Deconstruction of portions of the W-240 and W245 began July 1, and the reroute is expected to be completed by the end of September.

The project will be well signed for safety and convenience for navigating the new route. A map of the project area will be in the the next publication of the Spilyay Tymoo.

Questions, answers about computer virus attack

(The following advice is provided by the tribal Office of Information Systems. If you have questions, you can reach them at 541-553-3275.)

A different version of ransomware was released on the world in late June.

The Petya is by no means a new thing: It has been around since 2015-16, and was activated again in June with a few changes. So it gets a new name, NotPetya.

The new variant was targeting financial institutions, government offices, airlines, hospitals, ATMs, and even retail outlets.

Some common questions of the day:

Question: Is the tribe safe?

Answer: As much as someone can be.

Q: I am on an Apple computer, so I am safe right?

A: No, the newer versions are attacking everything.

Q: What can I do if I think I have this?

A: If someone suspects they have this virus, the best thing to do is reach behind the computer and pull the power cord out.

If the NotPetya is allowed to reboot the computer, all information, including the ability to get into the computer, is locked.

Q: Should I pay the ransom?

A: The e-mail address has since been blocked by most providers, so that wont work. And even if it were not blocked, chances are that they will not release a key to you or it will not work.

Q: What can I do to protect myself?

A: Run your updates!

This can be prevented by installing critical updates. Just to be safe, back up your vital files with different flash drives.

A simple rotation would be to back up your files once a week using different flash drives for each week of the month.

There are several programs that will do this for people, a decent free one for Windows is SyncToy: Very easy to use and it's free.

Q: Is there software I can purchase?

A: There are a lot of companies laying claim to being able to block this type of activity. I would not put much trust in any of them. Your best resource is to install critical updates and watch what you download, install or run on your computer.

Q: Is this why OIS has been tightening things down?

A: Yes, the more restrictive the network permissions are, the better we can control the damage, should we get infected.

Warm Springs youth 18 and younger are welcome to free nutritious meals through the Summer Food Service Meal Program. Breakfast is served at the Warm Springs Youth Center (in the former elementary school gym) from 8:30-9, and lunch is from noon to 12:30.

Vacation Bible School in July

Vacation Bible School is coming at the Warm Springs Baptist Church, July 10-14.

This is open to children completing kindergarten through fifth-grade.

The school will be Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to noon at the church, located at 230 Elliot Heights. There will be Bible lessons, songs, games, crafts, snacks and lots of fun.

For more information you can reach the church at 541-553-1267.

Estate planning free this summer for members

Tribal members through this month can receive free assistance with drafting a will, power of attorney, or other estate planning document.

Working with a supervising attorney, Courtnee Grego, law student at Seattle University, is providing the service. Her office is at the Community Action Team building on campu. Or call 541-553-3148; or 509-460-0077 (c). To contact by email: gregoc@seattleu.edu

Indian Fishers Expo free to tribal members

The Columbia River Indian Fishers Expo is geared for the unique needs of Columbia River Native American fishers.

The Columbia River Inter-Tribal Fish Commission will host the 2017 Expo at Hood River on Friday, July 28. The event is free to tribal members. Some features of the Expo:

The Fish and Wildlife committees of the four river tribes will each host their own question and answer sessions for fishers. These are open to everyone.

The sanitarian of the Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs will conduct a quality handling class. This will give participants tribe-issued certification, recognized by the state of Oregon for sales within the state.

There will be sessions on boat safety and boat maintenance. The maintenance session will include advice on keeping your boat engine at peak condition; common engine-killing mistakes and how to avoid them; and a hands-on overview of basic fiberglass repair. Fishers can bring their own boats to the workshop for specific questions.

Another Expo session will cover marking and business: connecting with customers, and selling at farmers markets. There will be trade booths, and a free raffle.

The Expo will be from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. on July 28. For more information call 503-238-0667; or visit the website: critfc.org

The July CRITFC commission meeting will be at the Best Western Hood River Inn the Wednesday and Thursday before the Expo.
