Land Buy Back response deadline near

The deadline to respond to a purchase offer from the Warm Springs Buy Back program is coming up soon, on Tuesday, April 24. If you have already returned your paperwork, no further action is necessary. Otherwise, if you have received an offer and an invitation to respond, you are eligible to answer questions, or assist in completing the paperwork. You can reach the Warm Springs Land Buy Back office at 541-615-0997.

The coordinator is Randy Scott, and the outreach coordinator is Tiffany Yallop. Randy and Tiffany have their offices at the Media Center, 4174 Highway 3, Warm Springs. You can email: randy.scott@wspchb.org. Principal parties in the Warm Springs Buy Back—Mr. Scott, and Fiduciary Trust Officer Charles Jackson—noticed recently with Tribal Council.

At the time of the meeting last week, only 111 responses to the Buy back offers had come in. Of that total, 103 had been accepted. The total was in response to 677 offers that had been made to landowners of Warm Springs Reserva- tion allotments. The total response to the offers was low, or at least the responses so far had been com- ing in at a slow pace, Mr. Jackson said.

To state the situation another way: The Warm Springs Buy Back program has available approxi- mately $4 million for purchases among the Warm Springs allot- ment owners.

To make the purchases from the 103 who had so far accepted (these numbers as of early last week), the cost would be about $440,000. That would leave a large part of the available $4 mil- lion.

Funds that remain unspent at the close of the Warm Springs pro- gram would revert back to the Land Buy-Back Program for Tribal Nations. Those funds would no longer be available to benefit the Confederated Tribes, or Warm Springs allottees.

Costly cleanup at Longhouse

The Agency Longhouse was closed to the public earlier this year, as testing of some areas of the building were positive for methamphetamine contamination. Tribal management then began the process of finding a company to remove the contamination. This process has turned out to be more complicated, and more expensive than was initially anticip- ated.

The tribes sought bids from companies that could de-contami- nate the public facilities. Upon inspec- tion of the building, the companies indicated they could not ad- dress the methamphetamine con- tamination until the completion of asbestos and lead paint mitigation. This would require two consecutive bids—first for the adhe- sive-lead paint mitigation, followed by the methamphetamine decon- tamination.

The two-part process would be very difficult, said Secretary Treasurer Michele Stacona, up- dating Tribal Council on the situation earlier this week. Management then looked for a company that could accomplish both mitigations at one time. A company based in Idaho was able to do this: the Fair Market Value of the project would be $102,000. Making this amount available for use at Longhouse would require use of previously allocated capital projects funding. As there are other public build- ings on the reservation— namely in Eliza Quinn Park, for instance—that appear to re- quire mitigation work, the recom- mendation was to make a total of $300,000 available.

Tribal Council by resolution made the necessary adjustment to the current year budget to address the matter.

Great grand opening at Plateau Travel Plaza

The grand opening of the Plateau Travel Plaza saw a great turn- out of customers and other friends. “We are grateful to have the support of the center commu- nity as we open our doors,” said Eric Angel, Travel Plaza general manager.

“On behalf of the Confeder- ated Tribes, we want to thank our many years of neighborhood, economic growth and enduring rela- tionships, both for residents of the lo- cal community and visiting travel- ers.

There is parking for up to 70 trucks in a secure lot. There are laundry facilities, full service and self-serve fueling, a 3,000 square- foot convenience store stocked with favorite items, home style soups, made and local food, a convenience off highway location, a variety of gaming options at the insur- ance stands.

A key distinction of the Plateau Travel Plaza is that it is positioned at a company-friendly destination for area residents, said Belinda Chavez, director of marketing at Wheel Fair & Rodeo Queen Mary Olney

Mary Olney is the 2018 Wheeler County Fair and Rodeo Queen—a first for both Warm Springs and Wheeler County.

Mary is a junior at Madras High School, where she tends to academics, being an Honor So- ciety student. She plays varsity softball, and is president of the 1st CUP 4- H/Landscaper Club.

Just recently Mary was voted incoming president of the Future Farmers of America Madras Chapter. For the current school year Mary is the FFA chapter vice president.

This will be a great and inter- esting chance to show our Warm Springs culture at the Wheeler County Fair and Rodeo, Sonia said. And for next year the Fair Board is excited to have Mary as their ambassador, and the 2018 Fair and Rodeo Queen.

“First new complex offers so much for those who live and work right here in the Warm Springs and Madras community,” Mr. Chavez said. “We view it as an af- fordable, convenient family destination for entertainment, food and fun.”

Quick response
My family had a health emergency on February 25, 2018. I called 911, and even though my house is hard to find, EMTs came within 10 minutes.

Because my small house is not easy to negotiate a gar-day through the woods to be able to find the back door and a sheet ‘eater.’

Within 20 minutes, we were on our way in the ambulance.

Thanks to Andrew and Dad for the quick response, and excellent service. We have some of the best, well trained EMS help right here on the reservation!

Hiring youth
Central Oregon Youth Conservation Corp is now open to 15 to 19-year-olds.

This is a great opportunity for youth ages 15 to 19-years-old to gain job skills and learn more about natural resources, while improving public lands and reducing the impacts of wildfires in our community.

Nearly 100 local youth will be selected for this competitive summer program, earning $10.75 an hour, working 36 hours a week.

Hands-on projects in Central Oregon’s beautiful forests and high deserts include building trails, maintaining firelines, piloting helicopter fus, scouting campsites, and improving wildlife habitats on the Deschutes and Zhaoon National Forests and the Crooked River National Grassland.

The program runs from June 25 through August 16. Youth will work 90 hours a day Monday through Thursday. Youth enrolls daily.

Legal aid clinic free to members

Tribal members and those married into the tribe are eligible to meet with lawyers at no cost to determine whether you qualify for legal assistance under the Legal Aid Services of Oregon.

To qualify, you must meet cer-nomics for the Fellas, a legal issue that falls within the clinic scope. Please attend an intake meeting, or call 971-703-7108 to find out if you qualify.

Qualified individuals are provided with an initial consultation with an attorney. The attorney determines at the first meeting if the case will be advised, only brief, service, or something more.

Intake meetings will be at the Warm Springs Community Action Team offices, at 1136 Paisa Av-ces, Warm Springs.

Drop in from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., or by appointment.

Intake meetings will be on June 11, August 13, and October 8.

For individuals who qualify, drop in are the dates: April 23, June 25, August 27 and October 22.

Karen Petersen attorneys will focus their representation on expungement, consumer law, small claims court matters, and education issues.

The intake specialist will also determine whether the legal issue can be handled by this program. Lau-

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers is now spilling additional water over dam spillways on the Columbia and Snake rivers.

The action is intended to help salmon, and comes following a federal appeals court ruling last week.

The three-judge Ninth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals upheld a decision by U.S. District Court Judge Michael Simon, who had appealed Judge Simon’s ruling.

Their arguments were that the U.S. House leadership introduced a bill, H.R. 3144, would advance to consid- eration by a commerce, and that the salmon were not in need of the added protection.

The decision is a win for Earthjustice, said Masuda said.

This is the fourth time since 2005 that increased spill has been allowed to prove harm to juvenile salmon.

“What is really the one bright spot in efforts to preserve salmon over the past 10 years or so,” Mr. Masuda said.

As the spill ruling was announced last week, Congress- man Dan Newhouse was meeting in Kennewick with business, agriculture, utility and commu- nity leaders, who oppose both the increased spill.

One of the three arguments: Water that is spilled cannot be used to produce hydroelectricity, which increases the utility bills for Northwest ratepayers.

Newhouse said that U.S. House leadership is proposing inadequate plans to protect salmon while operating dams.

The Army Corps and the Na- tional Marine Fisheries Service had appealed Judge Simon’s ruling.

Simon has found that salmon are in a “pre- cious” condition.

“There is no evidence of salmon returning to their historic spots in efforts to preserve salmon.”

Wild Salmon Coalition, says the BiOp does not do enough to restore the regions’ salmon. He ruled that a new environ- mental study is needed to look at the Columbia and Snake rivers’ hydropower system and that it must consider the option of breaching, or removing, the Snake River dams from Ice Harbor Dam near Burbank upstream to Lower Granite Dam.

The Bonneville Power Ad- ministration is scheduled to take on the case.

The question is whether the state will have to insert significant funding, perhaps $2 billion, to modify bridges—replacing culverts with bridges—to allow salmon passage.

The court decision will have repercussions for tribes all over the West and Midwest.

Culver, salmon case going to Supreme Court

Seventeen years ago, 21 tribes sued the state of Washington to fix those cul- verts. On Wednesday, U.S. Supreme Court is scheduled to take on the case.

The question is whether the state will have to insert significant funding, perhaps $2 billion, to modify bridges—replacing culverts with bridges—to allow salmon passage.

The Museum at Warm Springs on Wednesday will honor the Seventh Annual Honor Dinner. The evening will include the presentation of the Twanat Award, and two Lifetime Achievement Awards.

The Twanat Award recipient this year is Michael Hammond. Mr. Hammond was the executive director of the museum at the time of its opening in 1995. During his eight-year tenure, programs began that still continue today. These include the Annual Tribal Youth Art Exhibit, the Laird of Discovery science field day, the Tribal Member Art exhibit, and special arts and crafts programs for youth.

The Lifetime Achievement Award recipient this year is the Honorable J. Leavy and Louis Pitt Jr.

Judge Leavy is a distinguished Senior Circuit Court Judge of the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit, and one of Oregon’s most admired jurists. Judge Leavy has assisted the tribes and the U.S. to resolve long-standing issues in a joint, cooperative and amicable manner.

Louis Pitt Jr. is the Director of Governmental Affairs for the Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs. He is responsible for maintaining relationships with self-governemental governmental entities, looking out for tribal interests, and ensuring open communications. This year’s award recipients join the list of distinguished individuals, former homesteaders of the Museum at Warm Springs:

Buy Back: question of ‘fair market value’

Having a consolidated land interest in the area does not determine, and then potentially implement, the best use of the land.

But one is precluded when multiple peoples—hers of the original allom, one’s fraction of an interest in the particular parcel. After the April 24 deadline passes, it is possible this year the Buy Back program will have a second series of offers. This could help address the low response to the first wave of offers, Mr. Jack-

A committee of Judy Cabra raised the issue of the Buy Back program assessment of ‘fair market value’ of the allotments in question. Tribal Council had raised the fair market value issue in Februa-ary, when Council met with appraisers from the Office of Appraisal Services, an office of the Department of the Interior. Ap-

Dedication Day at CPS

The Confederated Tribes held the Dedication Day and Open House for the renovated Children’s Protective Services building. People who attended were given a tour of the building, and all were impressed.

The CPS office and home area are now wholly improved following the four-month renovation. From the floor to the roof, the Construction crew has rendered the facility a much more habitable and pleasant place to work and serve the children.

When the construction work was finished, Tribal Council approved the purchase of new furniture (below at right). Council, executive management and Health & Human Services worked together, starting last year, to make the project happen.

Tribal Social Services is offering a workshop on Monday, April 23 from 5:30-7:30. It is for adults only. All ingredients are provided plus you get to take some home, and get a free recipe book and cooking liền. Sign up and get details by calling 541-553-3243 if you want to set up a table.

During the dedication, long-time CPS worker Roberta Tufti presented a Pendleton blanket to previous CPS director Rebakah Main (photo at left). Some years ago as director, Ms. Main set up the fund for these future improvements. “She’s the one who had the foresight to put monies aside to make the renovations,” said current CPS director Cecelia Collins.

Community notes...

A Miss Warm Springs Coronation and fundraising banquet is coming up on May 12.

The evening begins at 6 p.m. at the Museum at Warm Springs.
