The tribal story as taught in schools

For years the tribal story as taught in schools has been misrepresented. The curriculum, developed from the non-Indian perspective, has been incomplete and incorrect.

This is changing as the nine tribes of Oregon are developing Native American curricula that will be taught in public schools.

Warm Springs Culture and Heritage, a department of the new Education Branch, is developing the curriculum of the Confederated Tribes.

Working with tribal elders, Deanie Smith at Culture and Heritage is coordinating the Warm Springs project. The group meets at the Education building, and has developed a draft curriculum that will be refined over the coming months.

The team also hosts community meetings, seeking input. The most recent, for instance, focused on the three Native languages of the Confederated Tribes.

Five specific topics are covered in the overall curriculum: Tribal History, Sovereignty, Culture, Languages, and Tribal Government. Three levels of study—for elementary school students, middle and high school—are included.

The final curriculum will be complete and submitted to the Oregon Department of Education by August. This will then be incorporated into the lessons of the public school system, replacing the versions that are incomplete or inaccurate in regard to the Native people.

Culture and Heritage for years now has been teaching tribal languages, history and culture in schools. The new curriculum will broaden this approach, giving students a better understanding of the tribal experience.

Construction work on Veterans Memorial

Dave McMechan/Spilyay

Warm Springs Construction this week began preparing the ground for the Warm Springs Veterans Memorial Park. The memorial will be at the far end of the north field by the museum.

The Confederated Tribes and the Spirit Mountain Foundation have provided initial funding for this project. Additional funding will be needed to complete the project as planned, but resources are in place to begin the long-planned memorial.

The park will be in honor of all veterans from the Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs, representing all military branches and all major conflicts, from the early tribal Scouts to the present day.

The memorial will display the official seals of all the branches of service, along with seven flags. According to the design, there will be 10 pillars on a raised mound with the names of the veterans inscribed on the pillars. And there will be walkways of bricks inscribed with the names of donors.

Tribal Council approved the project last year, as presented by the Veterans Memorial Park Committee.

Tribal Council meeting with state officials

Tribal Council this week is planning an important government-to-government meeting in Warm Springs with state of Oregon officials.

As part of the meeting, Council was expecting to welcome Oregon Governor Kate Brown.

The meeting was scheduled for Thursday of this week, January 31.

Gov. Brown, the thirty-eighth governor of Oregon, is serving in her second term, having won re-election in 2018. She has also served in the Oregon House and Senate, and as Secretary of State.

Other items on the Tribal Council agenda this week include draft resolutions and enrollments, discussion of the Burlington Northern Santa Fe vs. Clark County lawsuit, and the February agenda.

Some items for future consideration, as stated in the January Council agenda:

A government-to-government meeting with the Yakama Nation. The Tribal Fishing Code, and financials from the end of 2018.

Council to consider cannabis funding proposal

The Tribal Council agenda for the end of January includes consideration of a resolution to fund the hemp project. Council was scheduled to meet this Wednesday, January 30, on a funding resolution.

CP Enterprise, a project of Warm Springs Ventures, is proposing the hemp, or non-recreational cannabis operation on the tribes' Schoenhagen farm property.

The CP Enterprise team would like to have the funding—made possible by the carbon sequestration revenue—soon, in order to start growing.

The hemp operation would be overseen by the tribes' Cannabis Commission, responsible for ensuring compliance with all regulations.

Tribal Council late last year approved the CP Enterprise-Ventures hemp plan. The supplemental budget process is also complete, with the final piece in the funding process being the resolution to transfer the funding.

Ventures and CP Enterprise last year changed from the initial recreational cannabis proposal to hemp, which is less strictly regulated and less crowded.

Hemp produces non-THC, CBD-based products that have many applications, especially through medicinal and health products. The 304-acre Schoenhagen property is trust land, located across the river off Highway 26. The grow operation, storage and processing facilities, and an office space would be located on site.

ATNI winter meeting

Tribal Council members this week also joined other tribal leaders from around the region for the Affiliated Tribes of Northwest Indians Winter Conference.

A focus on the agenda this winter was the tribal response to climate change.

Addressing the conference, the president of the Quinault Nation told the delegates that Northwest tribal governments have the sovereign authority to regulate and tax big oil as a response to climate change.

Quinault president Fawn Sharp said tribes are taking the lead on this because other governments are not willing to take the steps necessary.

Dozens pitch in on Day of Service

The Cleanup Day in Warm Springs, on Martin Luther King Jr. Day, saw a great turnout of volunteers—from local employees and community members, to volunteers who traveled from as far away as Bend.

Shawnele Yahtin, Americorps Vista worker with Warm Springs Health and Human Services—Family Preservation, organized the cleanup day.

She had help from sponsors: Warm Springs Prevention, the Warm Springs Opioid Prevention manager and team, Emergency Response, and Family Preservation.

TRACES—Trauma Resilience and Adverse Childhood Experiences—provided the lunch for the volunteers. Warm Springs Community Health helped with the gloves, and the Prevention Team helped with a donation of trash bags and volunteer recruiting.

Cleanup volunteers arrive for sign-in (below left); and the cleanup around the park and creek (above, below right).

Dan Martinez and Emergency Response helped with First Aid kits, radios and bottled water.

Fish and Wildlife and the Branch of Natural Resources helped by hauling away the trash. By the end of the day the volunteers had filled eight truckloads of trash, Shawnele said.

The cleanup was at Elmer Quinn Park, and along Shitike Creek to the Shaker Church. The volunteers found no needles or other paraphernalia, Shawnele said.

Youth with the Heart of Oregon Corps, Warm Springs fire agencies, and staff from the Museum at Warm Springs helped out as well. Thank you to all who helped make the park and creek a cleaner and safer place!

SB 13: Native curriculum for schools

In 2017 the Oregon legislature passed a law—Senate Bill 13—calling on the state Education Department to implement a statewide Native American curriculum. Education then made resources available to the nine tribes, allowing each tribe to develop the curricula. Senate Bill 13, with the support of Gov. Kate Brown, states the purpose of the law:

“To develop a curriculum relating to the Native American experience in Oregon, and make the curriculum available to school districts.

“To provide professional development to teachers and administrators relating to the curriculum.”

Some other details set out in the law: The curriculum is to be for students in grades k-12. The lessons are to be historically accurate, culturally relevant, community-based, contemporary and developmentally appropriate.

The law requires schools to implement the curriculum in the public school system.

Bloodline referendum in March

The tribal referendum on the bloodline adjustment question is coming up on March 15.

The referendum will ask the membership whether the tribes should change how blood quantum is determined for the purposes of automatic enrollment.

The change would be the addition of the 1980 census to the list of baseline census years for determining the Confederated Tribes blood quantum.

The change for some would allow the recalculation of the degree of tribal blood—Wasco, Warm Springs and Paiute—a person has, based on the 1980 census. A tribal website explains the issue. See the site: youtube.com/channel/UCjttQ4Dd25tMGgy8R8gikA

Highway work north of Warm Springs

Expect delays on Highway 26 north of Warm Springs, as the Oregon Department of Transportation is working on a road construction project.

The $3.25 million project—between mileposts 99 and 103—will take a few months to complete.

The work includes repaving that stretch of the highway. The existing pavement will be ground out and new asphalt put down on the roadway and shoulders. Signs will be upgraded as necessary.

During construction, motorists can expect:

- Lane shifts utilizing temporary concrete barrier.
- Occasional lane closures controlled by flaggers. Delays up to 20 minutes.
- There will be limited duration road closures between the hours of 1 and 3 p.m. on various Tuesdays through Thursdays.
- These closures will be a maximum of 20 minutes, and a maximum of six closures will be permitted during January and February.

The project is expected to wrap up in May.

Where traffic is routed through or around the work zone, pedestrians, including those with disabilities, will also be provided routes through or around the work zone.

Tribal Youth Art show

The Museum at Warm Springs is getting ready for the Tribal Youth Art Exhibit. There is still some time for young, including classrooms, to submit artwork.

The museum will accept art submissions through this Friday, February 1.

There will be an opening reception for the Youth Art Show next Thursday, February 7 from 5:30 to 7 p.m. For additional information talk to museum curator Natalie Kirk, 541-553-3331 ext. 412.

False calls

Two Warm Springs elders earlier this month reported that they received phone calls from someone stating they were calling from Social Security.

The supposed reason for the call was that the elders were being charged with Social Security fraud, and they were to call 800-500-5700.

We contacted the Bend Social Security Office, and the case manager who took our call said the phone calls sounded fraudulent, and would be reported as such.

The case manager explained that Social Security does not make house calls, unless an appointment or a letter is mailed out letting the client know in advance. And Social Security does not call at 6 a.m. in the morning, which was when the elders had received their calls.

Rosemary ‘Mushy’ Alarcon, Warm Springs, 541-553-4955.

YouthBuild extension

The Heart of Oregon YouthBuild has not gotten our grant announcement yet, and were not able to start Mental Toughness earlier this month. We have had to push it back to start on February 4.

The advantage of this is we can still take applications for this cohort, and have added another information session date on Thursday, February 24 from 5-6:30 p.m. at Cloverdale.

If you know any youth who are interested in joining YouthBuild but missed our information session dates, they still have a chance!

The team will be coached by 2007 PBR World Finals event winner Wiley Petersen (Shoshone Bannock).

Two of the athletes selected to the Eagles bring past Global Cup experience, including reigning Rookie of the Year Keyshawn Whitehorse, who recently dazzled audiences around the country when he appeared on Good Morning America.

The Navajo bull rider capped his first year on the elite tour with the high-marked ride of his career, 89.5 points on Wicked Dreams during round five of the PBR World Finals.

He began the 2019 season strong in New York City, going 2-for-4 inside Madison Square Garden, followed by an eighth-place effort the next weekend in Chicago.

The Alpha Male

One time up at our high lakes a huge Bull Elk roamed with six cows wandering around him. One day a huge young bull appeared ready to challenge.

Over the years he had been tested before and won. Today, this young giant was too big! He had to run, three of the oldest ran after him, others stopped in a panic.

The oldest cow turned sideways and took the charging bull’s rack in the side. She laid down, let out of howl!

Half a mile away Black Wolf put his head back and returned the call, and they came running. Two lakes away a yearling bull was preparing for the same destiny! Old Bull ran and ran, his two companions following!

He ran to where the old beaten bulls have been running forever. Within a stand of trees huge rocks like scattered, generations of them!

I will not describe the place where he stands anymore. There he stands, one day all of the bulls were humbled by him! There he stands once beaten with his two cows, they followed!

Culture grants

The Warm Springs Washanaksha Cultural Coalition is seeking applications for grants for the current

ASIST training for a life saving cause

Participants at the recent ASIST training.

Warm Springs Health and Human Services hosted the Applied Suicide Intervention Skills Training—ASIST— in January. Rosanna Jackson, Certified Prevention Specialist, conducted the training.

ASIST is a two-day interactive workshop in suicide first aid. Participants are shown how to recognize when someone may have thoughts of suicide, and how to work with the person to create a plan that will support their immediate safety.

Since its development in 1983, ASIST has received regular updates to reflect improvements in knowledge and practice. Since its inception, over one million people have taken the workshop.

Studies show that the ASIST method helps reduce suicidal feelings in those at risk, and is a cost-effective way to help address the problem of suicide.

Over the course of their two-day workshop, ASIST participants learned to:

- Understand the ways that personal and societal attitudes affect views on suicide and interventions.
- Provide guidance and suicide first aid to a person at risk in ways that meet their individual safety needs.

- Identify the key elements of an effective suicide safety plan and the actions required to implement it.
- Appreciate the value of improving and integrating suicide prevention resources in the community at large.
- Recognize other important aspects of suicide prevention including life-promotion and self-care.

For more information on ASIST, or other community suicide prevention activities, please contact Rosanna at 541-553-0121.

year. Applications are due by February 11.

The Washanaksha Cultural Coalition, sponsored by the Oregon Cultural Trust and the Museum at Warm Springs, provides funding in support of tribal arts and heritage.

Grants to tribal members who reside on the reservation are considered first. Any remaining funding will be awarded to applicants from the other eligible groups.

Prior grant recipients must submit all reports required by the Washanaksha Cultural Coalition before applying for this year’s grant.

Projects must be completed in seven months:

Completion date is Friday, September 6, 2019.

Iron Chefs cooking at Academy

The fine art of healthy cooking will be on display in February at the Warm Springs Academy, followed by the regional competition at the Jefferson County Middle School.

The Iron Chef Cook-Off is a challenging and yet fun cooking competition.

Round one of the cook-off will be next week at the Warm Springs Academy, with the regional competition the following day at the Jefferson County Middle School.

Last year the Warm Springs team of three students took a close second place in the cook-off.

The challenge: The students are given the final secret ingredient—last year it was sweet potatoes—only moments before the start of the cook-off.

They proceed to improvise a nutritious and delightful dish, judged by a panel of taste testers.

The judges ask the students questions about preparation, with the focus on the five food groups and nutrition, cooking safety and sanitation, and taste.

The students qualify by going through the Iron Chef in the Nutrition Kitchen series, which concludes next week.

The program is a collaboration among the Warm Springs Academy, Oregon State University Nutrition and OSU 4-H Agriculture, and the Twenty-First Century afterschool program, sponsored in part by St. Charles Medical Center.

The students are in grades six to eight. They complete the eight-session series, coached by Extension’s Rosanna Sanders. The students learn the basics of meal preparation and cooking, food safety, food parings, teamwork and leadership.

The last session at the Academy will be at 4 p.m. on Thursday, February 7 in the Discovery Room. The winning team at the Academy cook-off will then go to the regional cook-off at 5:30 p.m. on Friday, February 8.

The team from the Academy will compete against the Jefferson County and Culver middle school teams.

“It’s always an exciting event, and a lot fun,” said Olivia Davis, program coordinator and teacher at the Culver Middle School.

Seeking input on mandatory sentencing

The tribal Justice Team is planning another public meeting regarding the draft resolution on mandatory sentencing for drug related cases on the reservation.

This will be a chance for community input on the proposal. The meeting is scheduled for 6 p.m. on Tuesday, February 5 at the Community Center social hall.

The Justice Team held its first public meeting on the resolution in late 2018. Overall, the response from this meeting was in favor of the proposal.

The community response, in fact, prompted the Justice Team to increase the initially proposed mandatory minimum sentences.

After the first, the Justice Team is suggested doubling the minimum sentences from 30, 60 and 90 days to 60, 90 and 120 days.

The Justice Team represents departments of the Public Safety Branch, tribal court, Health and Human Services, Housing, IHS, elected leaders, management and other community members.

The Justice Team first began working on the mandatory minimum sentencing resolution last year at the direction of Tribal Council.

Valuable data from PIT homeless count

The Point-In-Time Homeless Count gathers essential data helping direct the level and direction of certain social services on the reservation.

Warm Springs Health and Human Services last week held the Point-In-Time count. This was a requirement of Housing and Urban Development.

The count happened at the Family Resource Center. The count team also offered a health service, food and clothing to the participants.

Eleven staff supported the event, coordinated by Dana Buffy Hurtado, tribal Health Care analyst, Health and Human Services.

The team collected more than 60 surveys from the participants. They served 53 lunches during the lunch hour.

The count team included Ms. Hurtado, five community members, one outside community volunteer, one state-local government booth offering free confidential testing and vaccinations.

One staff and community volunteer offered haircuts. “Nineteen individuals took advantage of that service,” Ms. Hurtado said.

Generous donations stock employee relief distribution center

About 100 employees on the reservation—mostly IHS and BIA workers—were impacted by the partial shutdown of the federal government.

For more than a month they were working without pay, or were put on furlough—an obvious hardship for these households.

The tribal Emergency Response team championed the cause of helping these families, and the community showed great generosity and support.

The Emergency Response Center, in a building at the former elementary school, received donations from many grocery stores, organizations and individuals.

They received food items and water, pet food, and hygiene products. Using former elementary school library shelves, the team set up the distribution center.

Many of the impacted employees made use of the service, said Dan Martinez, Emergency Response director.

For information on hours of distribution, please contact Celeste White at 541-777-2803. Email:

Resolution of Tribal Council

Blood quantum Referendum

Whereas the Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs Reservation of Oregon is a federally recognized Indian tribe; and,

Whereas on April 25, 2016, Resolution no. 12, 157—which would change the rules for determining blood quantum for automatic enrollment by adding the 1980 census to the list of the baseline census years for determining the Confederated Tribes blood quantum of applicants for automatic enrollment—was passed; and,

Whereas three Simnasho District representatives believed that resolution no. 12,157 did not take into consideration the consultation of the tribes’ membership; and,

Whereas the three Simnasho District representatives invoked Article VI of the tribal Constitution and By-Laws to call for a tribal referendum on Resolution 12,157 for the vote of the membership; and,

Whereas the Tribal Council believes that the question of whether to approve Resolution 12,157 should be submitted to the vote of the membership per Article VI of the Tribal Constitution and By-Laws; now, therefore,

Be it resolved by the Twenty-Seventh Tribal Council of the Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs, pursuant to Article V, Section I(f), (l) and (u), and Article VI of the Tribal Constitution and By-Laws that the following question be submitted to a referendum of the eligible voters of the Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs to be held on March 15, 2019:

Shall the Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs Reservation of Oregon authorize the Tribal Council to amend the policy with respect to Amended Article III, Section 2(a) of the Tribal Constitution and By-Laws, in so far as the quantum of blood is concerned, shall be as follows:

In determining the quantum of blood of the Confederated Tribes of an application for enrollment, all the Indian blood of an enrollee of the Confederated Tribes as shown on the census roll of 1940, 1960, or 1980 shall be included as the blood of the Confederated Tribes; and,

Any prospective enrollee whose name did not appear on the 1940, 1960 or 1980 roll shall be considered to have the same blood quantum as his or her full brother or sister whose name did appear on the 1940, 1960 or 1980 census roll. If there was not brother or sister on the 1940, 1960 or 1980 census roll, the enrollee’s blood quantum will be determined by the blood quantum of his or her ancestors whose name or names appeared on the 1940, 1960 or 1980 or prior census rolls; and,

“Should resolution 12,157 determining the blood quantum for the purpose of automatic enrollment be approved?” Yes_____. No_____.

Gulls added to list of salmon threats

Many predators are known to eat imperiled salmon, from sea lions to double-crested cormorants.

For a long time, biologists thought gulls weren’t a big part of the problem. Now, they say that was a miscalculation.

A recent study showed that nearly 20 percent of the fish taken between the McNary and Bonneville dams were taken by gulls.

To help salmon, some fish advocates are proposing to shoot problem gulls during salmon migration.

A particular area of concern is Miller Island, where about 6,000 gulls nest during spring salmon runs.

Tribes demonstrate support for veterans

Native Americans serve in the country’s armed forces in greater numbers per capita than any other ethnic group. And many tribes make a priority of providing services to members veterans.

Last year, the Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs, for instance, entered a first-ever agreement with the Oregon Department of Veterans’ Affairs.

The agreement has enabled the tribes to establish the state’s first-ever tribal veterans service office.

ernans service office.

The office is authorized to operate in a way similar to a county veteran service office, providing direct services to tribal veterans under Veterans Affairs power of attorney.

The tribal office allows the advocates to address veterans needs in ways unique to the reservation. Having a local representative is another benefit of having a tribal veterans service office.

In another development in veterans affairs in Indian Country: Leaders of the Umatilla tribe last week also signed a new agreement with the Oregon Department of Veterans Affairs.

The agreement allows the Umatilla to create a service office that will operate in the same way as a county service office.

As with Warm Springs, this will provide direct services to tribal veterans, such as pursuing disability claim, and allowing more tribal veterans to receive physical and mental health services.
