Record breaking graduating class

The Madras High School Class of 2019 saw 132 students graduate. Forty-six of the students, roughly 35 percent, are Native American.

One-hundred percent of students at the high school who were eligible to graduate completed their requirements.

The school district Bridges Career and Technical program, directed by Jessica Swagger, helped more than 30 Native students meet the graduation requirements.

The Confederated Tribes and Education will host the Graduates Banquet later this month. The tentative date and place were June 10 at the Agency Longhouse. The water situation may require a rescheduling.

See pages 6 and 7 of this publication for more on the Madras High School Class of 2019.

The Jefferson County School District 509-J board will hold its regular Monday meeting on June 10 at 7 p.m.

The Jefferson County School District last day of school for non-seniors is next Tuesday, June 11.

Water response

The team working on the water system repair this week is developing the best response to address the situation, as quickly as possible.

Regarding the best repair response, tribal Management, Utilities and trust partners—including Indian Health Service and the BIA—were planning to meet with Tribal Council on Tuesday (after the print time for this publication).

Meanwhile the boil water notice remains in effect until further notice. The notice is for the entirety of the Warm Springs Agency area, including Kah-Nee-Ta, Wolfe Point, Sunnyside, Upper Dry Creek, Miller Heights, Campus area, West Hills, Tenino Valley, Tenino Apartments, Elliott Heights, Senior Housing, Trailer Courts and Greeley Heights.

Warm Springs has issued a reservation wide burn ban. With dry fuel conditions and lack of water for fire suppression, it is critical precautions are taken to help protect the people, property and resources of the Reservation.

A burn ban means that all outside agricultural and residential burning is strictly prohibited. This includes weed burning, burn barrels, and burn bins. All hot work at all facilities is banned: All operations involving open flames or that produce heat and/or sparks.

All fireworks are prohibited. Outdoor camp fires are not allowed. Only cooking in a propane or charcoal barbecue or camp cooking stove is allowed. All ceremonial and traditional fires are exempt from this burn ban. For further information on the Burn Ban status, contact the Warm Springs Fire Management Prevention team, 541-553-1146.

Indian Head Casino is open, though the Cottonwood Restaurant was temporarily closed.

Regarding the casino itself, Belinda Chavez, Indian Head marketing director, said, "With support from local utilities, loyal vendors and sanitary service professionals, we can remain open and operational, with access to safe, clean water throughout the casino."

The cause of the problem is a break in a 14-inch water main. The break is in a section of pipeline that runs under Shitike Creek. This affects about 1,100 service connections.

The Tribal Council last week approved an emergency disaster declaration. The declaration allows the tribe to apply for Federal Emergency Management Agency disaster funds to help with repairs and any impacts in the community.

The boil water notice says to boil water for three minutes before consumption. Drinking water is also available at the tribal Emergency Response office, 1161 Wasco St., a building in the former elementary school. Dan Martinez, Emergency Response director, estimated earlier this week the department had distributed up to 20,000 gallons of bottled water.

Kah-Nee-Ta discussion at Tribal Council

Everyone wants to see Kah-Nee-Ta back in operation. Beyond that point, though, the issue are complicated, and the opinions many and diverse.

There are a full-time and a part-time maintenance crew at the resort, closed now since last September. And there are two security officer positions.

That is the extent of personnel specifically dedicated to Kah-

Nee-Ta; while the Secretary-Treasurer and Chief Operations Officer dedicate as much time as possible to issues related to the resort, while handling many other obligations.

At Tribal Council last week, Management presented offers from outside entities that have expressed interest in partnering with the tribes in the management and operation of Kah-Nee-Ta. Council is now studying the information, and weighing the options.

An idea that many have expressed is the opening of just the Village area. Initial questions would be what hours, days of the week, services, etc.

Hiring of staff would have to start almost from scratch, as basic documents such as former job descriptions at the resort are difficult to locate.

Clearly, though, cost of reopening even just the Village would be fairly extensive, said Allysa Macy, Chief Operations Officer. It is possible a supplemental budget would be needed, meaning a timeline of at least several weeks.

There are costs associated with keeping Kah-Nee-Ta closed. Most significant is the power bill.

Early Childhood Education

Graduation days at Warm Springs Early Childhood Education are going to happen soon, but the dates have yet to be determined.

The water situation is a factor: The Early Childhood Center was open this week to staff, but not to the students, because of the water.

The ECE Graduation Days

Letters to the editor

In favor

First I would like to apologize to my sister, Eliza B. Jim and her Van Pelt children for the loss of their Van Pelt elder. However, at least their close love and knowledge will live forever.

Because tribal monies are involved in the rodeos, powwows and sporting events, I am very concerned the tribes are contributing thousands of dollars to these powwows and other sports events. You know and I know some tribes are now requiring tribal enrollment numbers shown before they are given a participation number to be in any powwow events. I am in favor of this practice and am encouraging the powwow committees and our tribes to start practicing this.

Gratefully,
Neda Wesley, T# 74, 7-18-38.

Message from Power & Water

The membership is invited to review the Warm Springs Power & Water Enterprises annual report. The document—reviewing the 2018 performance—is available at the administration building, and at the Power & Water office. Some of the points in the document:

The year 2018 saw a slow turn in the right direction for energy sales revenue. With an extremely hot summer and a late cold winter, energy markets were busy filling the need for demand, which drove up the wholesale market. We derive our revenue through a power sales agreement approved by the Board of Directors and the Tribal Council....

The future of Power & Water Enterprises looks positive with many things to explore for future development. The Pelton Project will continue to be a very important part of the tribes’ overall economic viability... The reintroduction of steelhead and salmon into the upper Deschutes basin above the project will be an exciting development, but with this comes the large responsibility to ensure the tribes’ interest for restoration becomes a reality....

Power & Water welcomes the membership to review the full document. You can reach the office at 541-553-1046.

Veteran Republican Oregon Senator Jackie Winters, the first African-American Republican elected to the Legislature, died in late May at age 82 after a battle with cancer.

Sen. Winters was a good friend of Atwi Prosanna ‘Pruny’ Williams, working on women’s health and children’s welfare issues.

Sen. Winters was a longtime guest of the Pi-Ume-Sha dinner; and supported tribal efforts throughout her state legislative career.

Congratulations to bicycle raffle winner Tony Anderson.

Interesting reminiscence

The Warm Springs Academy opened in the fall of 2015, the former Warm Springs elementary having closed that summer.

Some of the former school building now house offices providing tribal health and family services.

The old school buildings, though, still bear apparent witness to former students who attended some years ago.

“It was brought to my attention that there are etchings on bricks at the old school building that may have meaning to someone,” said Ron Hager, director of Warm Springs HAPPI.

The etchings (two examples above) appear to be by students who attended the school back in the 1940s—an interesting reminiscence of years gone by.

Progress with Veterans Memorial Park

Work is progressing on the Warm Springs Veterans Memorial Park. The park and monument will be located on the grounds of the Museum at Warm Springs, at the far end of the museum north field.

The team working on this project is now in a key fundraising phase—involving the bricks of the memorial walkway.

The Confederated Tribes and the Spirit Mountain Foundation have provided the initial funding for the project. This has allowed Warm Springs Construction to begin work on the foundation of the memorial. Additional funding—allowing for completion of this long-planned memorial—will come from donations.

The Veterans Memorial Park will be in honor of all veterans from the Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs, representing all military branches, and all major conflicts, from the early tribal scouts to the present day.

The memorial will display the official seals of the seven branches of service, along with the branch flags. There will be 10 pillars on a raised mound with the names of the veterans inscribed on the pillars.

To contribute

The walkways will be of bricks, inscribed with the names of all donors. There options to choose from in making a donation: 4x8 bricks and 8x8 bricks, with inscription and other options (see below).

If you would like more information, contact Johnathan Courtney at: coujw196@gmail.com

Celebrating addition to conservation lands

The Confederated Tribes Branch of Natural Resources manages thousands of acres of fish and wildlife conservation areas—west from the Willamette Valley eastward to the John Day River. These conservation areas are in addition to the Natural Resources restoration projects on the reservation, the Log Springs project, for instance.

A recent addition to the tribes’ off-reservation conservation areas is the Dunstan Homestead Preserve—1,200 acres of critical habitat along the upper reaches of the Middle Fork of the John Day. The area is at the heart of Chinook salmon spawning and rearing territory.

The Nature Conservancy and the Bonneville Power Administration are the tribes’ main partners in the acquisition and future management of the Dunstan Preserve.

The tribes and Branch of Natural Resources are joining their partners this week at the Dunstan Preserve to officially inaugurate and celebrate this project.

The Dunstan Homestead Preserve adds to the tribes’ other conservation areas on the John Day—the Pine Creek, and the landmark Oxbow Conservation Area.

The Nature Conservancy purchased the Dunstan Preserve in 1990 from the Dunstan family, who had owned the land since 1899.

For years, the Nature Conservancy has worked collaboratively with neighbors, local partners and the tribes to restore habitat and advance research, monitoring and land management on the property and surrounding area. With the addition of the Dunstan Preserve to the tribes’ existing properties—also purchased in partnership with BPA—nearly 3,000 acres of important fish and wildlife habitat are now permanently protected along the Middle Fork John Day.

Elder, Native speaker receiving Lifetime Achievement

Dr. Virginia Beavert, age 98, is an author, and Native speaker of the Sahaptin. She is a teacher at the University of Oregon Northwest Indian Language Institute.

For decades now, Dr. Beavert has been a key figure in teaching and preserving the Native language.

Besides her position with the University of Oregon Native language program—where she also holds at Doctorate in Linguistics—Dr. Beavert served as Scholar in Residence of Sahaptin Language and Culture at Heritage University in Toppenish.

She is the author of The Gift of Knowledge Tṇúwít Atawish Nch'inch'imamí, A Reflection on Sahaptin Ways, a story of her amazing life.

A woman of great courage and knowledge, Dr. Beavert “Tuxámshish” will receive the Museum at Warm Springs Lifetime Achievement Award at the Huckleberry Harvest dinner.

A Yakama Nation member, Dr. Beavert wishes to attend in person. Her fellow staff at the university are helping coordinate the trip to Portland.

Dr. Virginia Beavert, soon to receive the Museum at Warm Springs Lifetime Achievement Award.

...She was born in a bear cave in the Blue Mountains, raised in a traditional Indian-only speaking household.

The Gift of Knowledge

In her book The Gift of Knowledge, Dr. Beavert recalls riding with her grandmother on horseback over the plains of Zillah early in the twentieth century, hunting for herbs and roots.

She learned the traditions of the Waashat religion from her great-grandmother and her mother, who lived to be 103 years old. Amazingly, her great-grandmother lived to be 120.

From her grandmother and great-grandmother, Dr. Beavert learned the medicinal properties of herbs from her great-great-grandmother, who also imparted tribal legends along with herbal lore. In a review of the book are comments:

She was born in a bear cave in the Blue Mountains, raised in a traditional Indian-only speaking household.

Later she served as an Air Force wireless radio operator at a B-29 bomber base during the Second World War.

Dr. Beavert has spent her adult life tirelessly retrieving, preserving, and sharing Sahaptin knowledge.

She began working in her Native language at the age of 12 after meeting linguist Melville Jacobs.

Since then she has collaborated with some of the most accomplished linguists and anthropologists.

Her passion for and interest in the welfare of her younger readers reverberates throughout every page of The Gift of Knowledge, in which her stated purpose is to record the lifeways taught to her by her family.

The museum Lifetime Achievement Award will by no means be Dr. Beavert has received:

She is a recipient of the Washington Governor's Heritage Award; Central Washington University Alumna of the Year; recipient of the Ken Hale prize of the Society for the Study of the Indigenous Languages of the Americas; and Distinguished Service Award, University of Oregon.

June exhibit at museum

The Museum at Warm Springs will examine the Indian Boarding School experience with a new exhibit opening this month.

The exhibit is Resilience: The Boarding School Experience of Warm Springs and beyond. Boarding Schools have had lasting impacts—both good and not so good—for many Native Americans.

With Resilience you will see and hear first hand observations from some who have lived the boarding school experience.

You will not want to miss this meaningful, candid account of Boarding Schools, then and now.

Resilience opens on June 27.

Notice of Public Hearing

The Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs Reservation of Oregon.

Hearing: June 12, 2019 at 1 p.m. Warm Springs Credit Enterprise Conference Room, 1236 Scouts Drive, Warm Springs, OR 97761.

A public hearing will be held on Wednesday, June 12, 2019, at 1 p.m. at the Warm Springs Credit Enterprise Conference Room, 1236 Scouts Drive, Warm Springs, Oregon 97761 for the purpose of hearing public comment relating to the issuance by The Confederated Tribes of the Warm Springs Reservation of Oregon (the “CTWS” or “Tribe”), pursuant to a plan of finance, of one or more series of its Hydroelectric Revenue Refunding Bonds (the “Revenue Bonds”) in an aggregate principal amount not exceeding $25,000,000.

Proceeds of the Revenue Bonds will be used to refinance all or a portion of the Tribe’s outstanding Hydroelectric Revenue Bonds, Series 2009B (Pelton Round Butte Project) (Tribal Economic Development Bonds – Tax-Exempt Fixed Rate) issued in the aggregate principal amount of $22,910,000 (the “2009 Bonds”).

The 2009 Bonds were issued for the purpose of paying capital costs of the Tribe’s undivided interest in environmental enhancements of the Pelton Round Butte Hydroelectric Facility, Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (“FERC”) Project No. 2030, which enhancements included the construction of a Selective Water Withdrawal Facility for fish enhancement (the Tribe’s interest, the “Fish Enhancement Project”) and improvements to the Indian Park Campground (the Tribe’s interest, the “Campground”) (the Fish Enhancement Project and the Campground, collectively the “Projects”).

The Fish Enhancement Project is located on the Lake Billy Chinook reservoir upstream of the Round Butte Powerhouse (between River Miles 100 and 120 on the Deschutes River, near Madras, in Jefferson County in central Oregon).

The Campground known as “Indian Park” is located on the west shore of Lake Simtustus, approximately two miles north of the Round Butte Powerhouse off BIA Road 242.

The Tribe is the owner of each of the Projects.

Section 147(f) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (the “Code”), requires that qualified private activity bonds, such as the tax-exempt series of the Revenue Bonds, be approved by the applicable elected representative of the governmental unit issuing such bonds. The Hearing Officer will consider the information obtained at the public hearing and submit a Hearing Officer’s Report to the Tribal Council of the CTWS, as the applicable governmental body, that must approve of the issuance of the Revenue Bonds pursuant to Section 147(f) of the Code.

credit of the Tribe.

The purpose of the public hearing will be to provide a reasonable opportunity for members of the public to express their views, orally or in writing, regarding the issuance of the Revenue Bonds and the uses and purposes of the proceeds of the Revenue Bonds. The hearing will be conducted in a manner that provides a reasonable opportunity for persons with differing views to be heard on the question of the issuance of the Revenue Bonds.
