Tribal Council took two key actions regarding the immediate work to protect its employees, who experience financial hardship because of the pandemic, a means to access their retirement fund, and to provide for the administrative leave, was unanimous. The change to the 401-K policy provides that the tax deferral, would be in effect through December 31. The change is called a “coronavirus-related distribution,” or CRD, and is part of the Coronavirus, Relief, and Economic Stability—Cares—Act.\n
Imposition and application of the CRD policy to the retirement fund access is flexible. An employee would not necessarily have to have Covid-19, for instance. The employee may be having trouble with day care, making it impossible to go to work, as an example. Ms. Langford emphasized that employees need to realize the seriousness of accessing retirement savings, including the tax consequences. The current economic situation has also reduced retirement accounts. At the point no tribal employee has accessed a retirement fund due to the coronavirus, said Cheryl Tom, Human Resources director. She said an employee could expect to receive a check within a week of putting in the request. In a separate action Tribal Council voted to expand the administration of a “non-essential” tribal employees through May 8.

The Oregon National Guard met with Tribal Council this week, discussing recruitment options for inter-tribal youth. They have been providing the tribes and clinic with supplies to protect against the coronavirus. They also presented Council and Chairman Raymond Tuftpi with a drawing of a Guard volunteer who had served in the Pacific during World War II.

Choose a different role for the CreateCareS Fund distribution

The tribes say Interior's decision to give the coronavirus relief fund to the Interior Secretary rather than to the tribes or clinic with supplies to treat tribal youth is failing to live up to the promise to protect and preserve the tribes and treaty responsibilities.

Composite Products workers on the job

The work stations at the Warm Springs Composite Products factory have always been some distance apart. Most Warm Springs tribal offices remain closed to the public at least through Friday, May 8. Tribal Council is deciding soon, after consultation with Management and health and safety advisors, how to proceed through the rest of May and beyond. The decision depends on Council determination of the best interest of the membership and the tribes.

Hydro dams generating power

The virus pandemic affects everyone and every enterprise, even those that are able to operate almost business as usual. Going into the year 2020, for instance, Power and Water Enterprise was preparing to finalise a plan for a major, long-term capital improvement project. The idea was to start the year was for Power and Water to develop the long-planned plan for turbine replacement at the Pelton-Round Butte hydro facilities. This is a large undertaking—the turbines are very big—with a large undertaking—the turbines are very big—so far avoided any serious business issues, Mr. Coochise said.

Jim Manion by the Round Bull hydro dam.

For example—the turbines replacement is moved from 2021 to 2022, Mr. Manion said. Meanwhile the Power and Water staff continue the normal operation of the hydro facilities. The main office, like the fish passage facility, is spacious enough to allow workers to maintain social distancing while carrying out their work. From the demand side, the power market has remained stable, Manion said. There may be drop-off in the large industrial sector, as some manufacturing is down, but the value of the power has kept the market stable, he said. This is the present circumstance.

If the economy-wide shut-down continues throughout the year, no one can predict the potential impact, as there are unprecedented times, Mr. Manion said.

A message from the fish commission

(Chinook River salmon)  Fish commission coordinates the fishery interests and un- derstanding with Indian tribes (Umatilla, Wasco, Warm Springs, Umatilla and Nez Perce).

The Columbia River Indian tribes’ com- mission would like to thank you for your un- derstanding and support. This is a work in progress as we all work to re- spond to the constantly evolving Covid-19 pan- demic. We feel our first prior- ity is the safety of our employees and the tribal communities we serve. We are firmly committed to fulfilling our mission and responsibilities to our member tribes with the least amount of disturb- ance possible.

We have particularly focused on being able to continue our public health and self-care responsibilities that our CRITFC Enforcement and fishing site mainte- nance teams provide. As we now call to virtue, with an increased need to allow essential staff to maintain critical func- tions and operations. All other employees are under mandatory staydown. Many are working flexible hours to support their families and personal needs resulting from this unprecedented situation.

Reach out to us as you normally would by email or phone if you please if the response time is delayed. You can find updated information on these extraordinary circumstances on our CRITFC website: www.crittfc.org.

Please send requests or other communications as you would normally do. We will respond as quickly as possible.

Thank you for your patience.

As the pandemic and stay-at-home orders expand, so does alcohol consumption. Staying at home and the school closures cause stress on parents during this time of home-schooling.

The lack of social interaction is another one of the many reasons why alcohol consumption is on the rise during this pandemic. The extreme worry and isolation sparked by the coronavirus is likely leading many to increase their consumption of beer, wine, and hard alcohol, experts say.

There are some healthy activities to deal with stress.

Take care of yourself.

Eat healthy, well-balanced meals.

Talk to others. Share your problems and how you are feeling and coping with a parent, a friend, or another native.

Remember, you are not alone.

Reach out online digitally to friends and family.

And practice healthy habits.

Exercise, go for a walk, or hike, always keeping the social distance.

KNT hamlets water outage

The Kah-Nee-Ta hamlets were without water for a time last week. This was due to a broken water main. Inspectors repaired a valve, and the water was restored, a boil water notice was issued for the hamlets. Boil water notice samples of the water were sent to the Environmental Protection Agency. The water was then sent for testing and found safe.

Tribes: Organization shutdown continues

Another option this week was to extend the administrative leave for two weeks, while General Managers and department directors develop plans for a partial opening of the organization. This could involve a requirement to wear medical masks at work, have sufficient hand sanitizer and disinfectants, and ensure social distancing. This option could also involve developing lots of employees who could be at risk from the virus, such as those of a certain age, or with underlying conditions. Among the employees, these employees could be required to take leave during the pandemic until the organization is under control.

The Council is planning to meet again in next week for two weeks to continue discussion of the immediate future of the organization and employees.

STAY HOME. SAVE LIVES.

County position on the May ballot

The Jefferson County Clerk’s Office is making the Voters’ Pamphlet this week for the May 19 Oregon Primary. Locally, the ballot includes a position on the Jefferson County Board of Commissioners, a question about a city of Madras tax on prepared food to fund road repairs and reconstruction; and a county transient room tax increase.

The candidates for county commission position No. 3 are Kenneth Bixert, Sandy Bixert, and Kin Schmidt. All Bixert has his occupation as “not employed,” previous employment being farm owner, and Kah-Nee-Ta Management’s employee, among other positions. Sandy Bixert is the owner of Madras Print & Glass, and is a former county commissioner, and Kin Schmidt is the business owner and Oregon Medical Board licensed operator of Madras Acura.

The deadline to register in the Oregon Primary is Tuesday, April 28. The ballots will go out on April 29, and election day is May 19.

Big jump in county unemployment claims

It is no surprise that other parts of the country, the Jefferson County jobless rate has seen an unprecedented increase.

During a three-week period in late March and early April, the Oregon Department of Employment of Employment processed close to 500 unemployment claims. The previous three weeks had seen only 55.

The number for those three weeks, the time for which data is available, the state had processed close to 56,000 claims.

The unemployment rate for the state and accommodation saw the single-biggest increase in year over year.

Note to members...
As of Tuesday morning of this week, there had been no cases of the coronavirus on the Warm Springs Reservation. About 30 people were tested, with most results negative, and a few still pending.

Theresa health workers have this advice at the best safety measures for the membership and other residents and employees on the reservation:

1. Monitor yourself, or fever, cough, or shortness of

2. Do not go out at all if you develop any symptoms. Stay home until three days after both fever and cough go away.

If the test of the person in your household comes back negative, you should continue to monitor yourself for three days after.

Has the Proscription Opioid Crisis affected you or someone you know? You could be compensated by the Purdue Pharma L.P. Bankruptcy.

READ US YOUR RIGHTS MAY BE AFFECTED.
FOR INFORMACIÓN EN ESPAÑOL, VISÍTE EL SITIO WEB.

WHAT IS THIS ABOUT?
If you’ve been hurt by Purdue Pharma L.P., a U.S. limited partnership, its general partner and its subsidiaries, including Intrinsic Therapeutics LP, Adon Therapeutics LP, Greenfield BioVentures LP, Avitas Health LP, Rhodes Technologies, and Rhodes Pharmaceuticals LP ("Purdue"), or Purdue prescription opioids, like Oxycodone™, or other prescription opioids produced, marketed or sold by Purdue, you can file a claim for compensation in the Purdue bankruptcy proceeding. The deadline to file a claim is June 30, 2020, at 5:00 p.m. Eastern Time.

WHAT IS A CLAIM AND WHO CAN FILE?
A claim means a right to seek payment or other compensation. You must file a Proof of Claim Form so it is actually received by the deadline. It can be filed by you, by a legal guardian, by survivors, or by relatives of people who have died or are disabled. At Personal Injury Claimants’ Proof of Claim Forms and any supporting documents that will be kept confidential and will not be made available to the public. You do not need an attorney to file a proof of claim for you.

Additionally, partnerships, corporations, joint ventures, trusts, governmental units, and Native American Tribes may also file a proof of claim against Purdue.

Go to PurduePharmaClaims.com to find a complete list of instructions on how to file a claim. You will also find a list of the opioids produced, marketed, or sold by Purdue.

You may file a Proof of Claim even if a settlement is contemplated in the Purdue bankruptcy so that your claim can be considered as part of any settlement.

WHO DOES THIS AFFECT AND WHAT ARE MY RIGHTS?
If you think you’ve suffered harm from Purdue’s prescription opioids, you have the right to file a claim even if you also may have received compensation from insurance. Examples of compensation that may be included in the Purdue bankruptcy include death, addiction or dependence, lost wages, loss of spousal relationship benefit for things like child-rearing, enjoyment of life, etc., or Neonatal Abstinence Syndrome (sometimes called "NASS") among Purdue’s damages.

The deadline to file a claim is June 30, 2020, at 5:00 p.m. Eastern Time. If you do not file a claim by the deadline, you will lose the right to file a claim against Purdue, and you will lose any right to seek payment or compensation you may have had. Proof of Claim Forms, a list of opioids produced, marketed, or sold by Purdue, and instructions for how to file a claim are online at PurduePharmaClaims.com. The main territory of the White River wolf pack is the Warm Springs Reservation. Branch of Natural Resources wildlife monitors saw the first wolf of the pack a few years ago, followed by the sighting of a mate. Some of these observations were by remote cameras, and some were seen by the wildlife team. Mid last year Natural Resources reported the pair had produced six wolf pups. A recent state count of the Oregon wolf population is at 158. Five of these are members of the White River pack.
